Steel Pact Caution Urged

Wage Talks Opened On Hopeful Note

Amicable Agreement Sought; Government Could Intercede

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel negotiations opened Tuesday on a hopeful note with both sides asserting they wanted to reach an early amicable contract agreement without government intervention.

President Eisenhower hinted the government may step in if the bargaining points to a new inflationary surge of wages and prices.

The President, at his Washington news conference, urged both sides to exercise good sense and statesmanship in the talks. Otherwise, he said, the American people could not stand idly by and let themselves get hurt.

Do Job Ourselves

Commenting on this, R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for U. S. Steel Corp. and the entire industry, said with the assent of Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald:

"I'm sure we would very much like to do our job ourselves. It's our responsibility. We'd like to discharge it."

Both McDonald and Cooper exchanged pledges before newsmen to work hard toward reaching a new contract agreement ahead of the June 30 expiration of present contracts. They said they also would strive to avoid any July 1 industrywide strike.

Negotiations got under way with Bethlehem, Republic and Kaiser Steel as well as U. S. Steel, the industry's top producer. Separate sets of talks open Wednesday and Thursday with eight other top companies. Thus a dozen separate bargaining sessions involving close to a thousand union and industry men will be under way.

It was recognized that real bargaining would start only after already designated four-man industry and union teams replace this unwieldy setup with one set of negotiations. This probably will be in a week or so.

Costs Inflationary

In an exchange of opening statements, the industry reiterated belief that any new labor costs would be inflationary. It pledged to try to avoid increasing steel prices.

The union said it wants a substantial wage boost plus pension and insurance improvements, more work opportunity for idle union members and a better unemployable compensation system.

The steel companies in each set of negotiations presented a series of charts and graphs projected on movie screens demonstrating contentions steelworkers already are among the best paid in the nation. Current wages average $3.03 per hour.

Asked his reaction to this presentation, McDonald said only "very interesting."

Girl, 15, Wins Cook Honors

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — A 15-year-old Tennessee girl Tuesday was named the nation's No.1 teen-age cook for her southern sea foam lime pie.

Judy Fay Byrd, of Knoxville, won the $5,000 cash prize and other awards by outdoing such other culinary works as "lubji noodle casserole," "Mom's night out casserole," "fudge mint Alaska salute," and "Wisconsin sukiyaki."

Judy Fay's creation also won her a 10-day trip to Europe for herself, her mother and her high school home economics teacher, Mrs. Evelyn Simpson.

Judy Fay said the contest sponsored by Kroger stores and the Westinghouse Electric Corp., was the first one she ever won, although she cooked about two meals a day at home and had plenty of experience.

Her pie, a coconut meringue desert flavored with lime juice, won over 49 other finalists, including two boys, from 18 states in the teen-age cookoff.

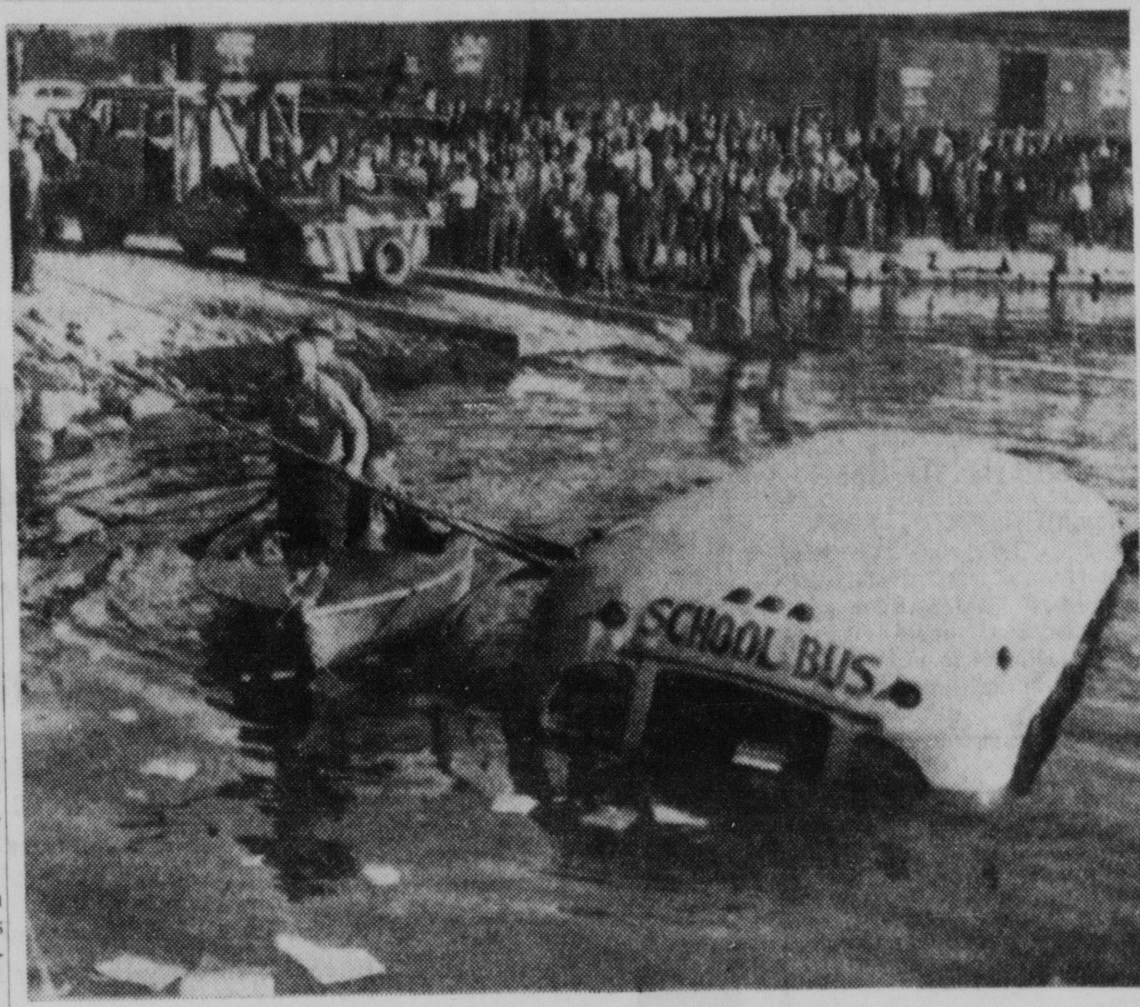
Grady Soundly Whips M'Keldin To Win Baltimore's Mayoralty



40 Students Escaped

Forty high school students escaped death at Barrie, Ont., yesterday when their school bus plunged into Lake Simcoe after its brakes failed on a hill. Bus driver Don Valley averted tragedy when he swerved the bus before it ran onto a dock and drove it down a boat launching slip where the water was only seven feet deep. Had the bus went off the dock it would have plunged into 30 feet of water. (AP Photofax)

Mother, Lover Are Held In Strangulation Of Boys

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A mother and her lover were jailed Tuesday on suspicion of murdering her two sons.

The boys were strangled in the mountains east of here, one at a time, because they had been naughty, officers quoted the arrested pair.

Kenneth Archie Merriam, 36, an unemployed painter, told newsmen after making a statement to police that red-haired Wanda Brogdon, 33, talked him into killing the children.

"It's a shame," he said.

He demonstrated, by putting his hands to his own head and back, how he choked Virgil Lee Brogdon Jr., 5, and then David Wayne Brogdon, 3.

Sheriff's Lt. Tom Isbell said Mrs. Brogdon told him she suggested to Merriam Saturday afternoon that he kill the children.

They took the boys by automobile into the Laguna Mountains that night.

The couple went back to the mountains Monday night and brought the bodies of the children in the car to the home of Merriam's sister, Margaret Schmitter, in suburban Spring Valley.

It was Mrs. Schmitter's frightened telephone cry to the sheriff's office—"There are two dead kids in the car and they're going to get me"—that led to the discovery of the bodies and arrests.

Mrs. Brogdon, the boys and a daughter, Cynthia Ann, 19 months, came here from Rockford, Ill., two weeks ago, with Merriam.

The father, Virgil Brogdon, 42, a truck mechanic, has filed suit for divorce in Illinois.

Cynthia Ann was in the front seat of the car, officers said, when her brothers were taken out and strangled.

She was found at the home of Merriam's sister Tuesday and placed in a county home.

The Brogdons were married six years ago in Jackson, Ill., the two sons were born in Rock Island.

Stole Smallpox

MANILA (AP)—A burglar who broke into the Manila airport quarantine station may have stolen a case of smallpox along with other loot, health authorities warned Monday. The booty included the germ-laden belongings of a Swedish seaman who was suffering from smallpox.

Paid Rackets For Newspaper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ted Thackrey, who ran the now-defunct New York Compass, swore Tuesday he forked over $10,000 to an alleged underworld fixer so he could start publishing his newspaper.

Irving Bitz, described by Thackrey as a man known for "dealing with union situations" and as a reputed associate of the underworld, refused to talk about the alleged payoff when called before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Joseph Simons, former president of the New York Newspaper and Mail Deliveries Union, accused Thackrey of lying and denied receiving any payoff money —but also declared himself confused. And, like Bitz, he invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions.

Recalled to the witness chair, Thackrey stuck to his story.

Thackrey, publisher of the Compass during its three-year life, testified he gave $10,000 to Bitz in 1949 to smoothe his troubles with the deliverers union. Thackrey called it a shakedown and said he was "ashamed of my own part in it."

Bandleader Hal McIntyre Dies Of Burns From Fire

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hal McIntyre, 42, featured musician with the late Glenn Miller before forming his own successful swing band, died Tuesday of burns suffered in a fire at the apartment of his girl vocalist.

McIntyre, hoping for a comeback at Las Vegas, Nev., this summer, suffered first, second and third degree burns on the lower half of his body when he apparently fell asleep while smoking a cigarette early Sunday, said police.

Only a nurse was present when McIntyre died shortly before noon at General Hospital. His sister, Pauline McIntyre, Cromwell, Conn arrived at the hospital shortly after the bandleader succumbed.

McIntyre, only 26 when he formed his band, was much in demand for college dances and recording dates during the 1940s. But when popularity of the big bands began to ebb, the dates became fewer and in recent years, the band has had few engagements.

Jeanne McManus, who sang with the McIntyre band for the past seven years, said she had left McIntyre working on musical arrangements Saturday night. When she returned to the apartment about 3 a.m. Sunday, she found McIntyre asleep on the couch and went to a room across the hall rather than awake him.

But she said sometime later, she smelled smoke and found McIntyre had put a chain and lock on the apartment door. She summoned help when she was unable to enter.

Firemen found the bandleader huddled under a smouldering blanket on the kitchen floor of the apartment.

Samir Rifai Resigns Jordan Minister Post

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Samir Rifai, the pro-western strong man behind King Hussein's often shaky throne, resigned as prime minister Tuesday, pleading ill health. The action may foreshadow restoration of closer relations with the United Arab Republic.

The King apparently felt his own hold on the country was strong enough to accept the resignation, which came as a surprise. He had refused several times before to let Rifai step down.

Hussein asked Hazza Majali, minister of court, to form a new government. He already has begun consultations. Majali said he expects to complete formation of a new government Wednesday.

In a royal letter, Hussein instructed Majali to maintain the present anti-Communist policy and to seek friendly relations with sister Arab states.

The new Premier is known for his pro-Western policies. He was prime minister once before, for less than a week. Forming his government at that time he advocated joining the Baghdad Pact.

His brief tenure, in December 1955, ended when street mobs raged through Amman demanding Jordan side with U.A.R. President Gamel Abdel Nasser and stay out of the Baghdad Pact.

Jordanian membership in the pact is now considered out of the question since Iraq no longer belongs.

Pasternak Expulsion Said 'Trivial Affair'

COPENHAGEN (AP)—The expulsion of Nobel Prize winner Boris Pasternak from the Soviet Writers' Union, was "a trivial affair which everybody in the West may forget within a few years," says Soviet author Mikhail Sholochov.

Pasternak's disputed novel "Dr. Zhivago" was "artistically a weak book," the visiting author told a news conference.

Sentence Beggar

HONG KONG (UPI)—A beggar was sentenced to three months in jail Tuesday for tossing a brick through a limousine window, narrowly missing the acting commander of British forces in Hong Kong, Air Com. P. D. Holder. Wong Kam Wing was arrested just a few minutes after he threw the brick.

Threaten Strike

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UPI)—Postmen of Selangor state threatened Tuesday to go on strike unless authorities forced dog owners to place their mail boxes outside their gates. A spokesman complained that eight of the mail carriers had been bitten recently by dogs.

Has 144,025 Votes To Loser's 71,981; Demos Sweep Offices

BALTIMORE (AP) — Democrat J. Harold Grady, a former FBI man who never ran for office until a year ago, soundly defeated Theodore R. McKeldin, two-time Maryland governor and nationally known Republican, for mayor of Baltimore Tuesday night.

For Grady, a 42-year-old state's attorney running on a reform platform, it was his second victory in as many months over a colorful veteran campaigner. He upended three-time Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro in the Democratic primary March 3.

Returns from 567 of 572 polling places gave Grady 144,025, McKeldin 71,981.

The Democrats also retained the offices of comptroller, city council president and all 20 seats on the city council.

Grady, a tall and affable native of Williamsport, Pa., claimed victory at 8:12 p.m., just an hour and 12 minutes after the polls closed.

McKeldin Concedes

"The new administration will take office with a determination to prove itself worthy of this confidence," he said.

McKeldin, conceding 11 minutes later, wished him "every success in the tremendous task that awaits you."

Even many of his strongest supporters acknowledged that this defeat spelled a probable end to the brilliant political career of the 58-year-old McKeldin. The eighth son of a South Baltimore cop, he was the only Republican ever re-elected governor of a State where Democrats hold a 5-2 edge in the voter registration.

In one of the highlights of his public life, he nominated Eisenhower to his first term as president.

Barred from a third straight term as governor by the State Constitution, he decided to buck precedent by trying to regain the mayor's chair he occupied from 1943-47. Not even a Democrat had ever gone from mayor to governor and back to mayor again.

This would have also given him a 4-3 edge in his tries for public office. He lost for Mayor in 1939, and for governor in 1942 and 1946, but won the 1943 mayoralty and the governorship in 1950 and 1954.

In the end, he fell before the combined weight of a political newcomer's fresh personality, the enemies inevitably made in both parties during his four years as mayor and eight as governor, and the city's 4-1 registration advantage held by Democrats over Republicans.

Mostly Personalities

From the start it had been a campaign waged mostly on personalities. Both candidates had agreed that urban renewal, the transit dilemma and additional revenue sources were the main problems facing the nation's sixth largest city.

Grady had made James H. (Jack) Pollack, northwest Baltimore Democratic boss, the main issue of his primary fight against D'Alesandro. He contended Pollack carried too much weight around City Hall.

D'Alesandro joined forces with Grady after their battle, but the young prosecutor spurned Pollack's offer of support and this backing went to McKeldin.

Besides arguing over the desirability of Pollack support, Grady and McKeldin criticized each other's handling of his public duties. Grady attacked McKeldin for proposing a sales tax increase as governor after promising to repeal the levy and for making out-of-state speeches for hire.

McKeldin accused Grady of improperly delaying the prosecution of influential persons involved in a criminal case and refusing to investigate complaints that one of his running mates contributed more than the legal limit to the Grady-ticket campaign.

Grady was unopposed in the primary and general election last year when he ran for state's attorney, his first quest for political office.

Sweeping to victory with him Tuesday night were State Sen.

AF Base May Become Airport

Truman Asks Foreign Aid Not Be Cut

Advocates Larger Program To Be Policed Vigilantly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman told Congress Tuesday not to cut foreign aid, but instead set up a bigger program on a longer basis—and then vigilantly police it.

At his salty best, the former president and onetime senator advised congressmen, some of whom are bent on cuts, that the time to reduce mutual security is when "you feel the situation is so bad you first cut congressional salaries."

As for reports of maladministration here and there, Truman reminded the House Foreign Affairs Committee he had been referred to "as the No. 1 s.o.b. in the United States government because I kept looking into things."

Saved Billions

"If you'll excuse my bragging," he said, the Senate War Spending Investigating Committee he headed was credited with saving 15 billion dollars.

In a largely nonpartisan talk, Truman generally defended a program at least as large as President Eisenhower's $3,930,000,000 proposal. He said "most thinking people in both parties" agree basically on foreign aid, although not "the American Firsters and the Chicago Tribune."

He even acknowledged the foreign aid support of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48, with which he scrapped on domestic issues.

Truman put in a special plea for the development loan fund, designed to provide loans for economic advancement projects in countries where ordinary credit cannot be had.

"You ought to increase" the administration request of 700 million dollars for the fund, he said, noting some administration spokesmen had recommended earlier as much as 1½ billion.

Can Afford Funds

Truman declined repeatedly to be drawn into a discussion whether Congress, if it did not agree on raising the President's total, should cut military foreign aid for the benefit of economic programs.

He said "We can afford adequate funds for both purposes." Further than that, he would say only that it is up to Congress to investigate and establish the priorities.

Besides watchfulness by Congress and insistence on a program that "operates in a showcase," Truman recommended cultivating good public relations both at home and abroad through, and in connection with, foreign aid. The aim, he said, should be "cultivating the friendliest of friendly relations with these countries and not trying to tell them what kind of government they should have."

Farouk Is Given Monaco Citizenship

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI) —Former King Farouk of Egypt was made a citizen of Monaco Tuesday by special decree of his close friend, Prince Rainier.

Announcement of the move gave the first public indication that the portly Farouk might have abandoned hope of regaining the throne of Egypt from which he was ousted in 1952.

Parker Shot Before Being Put In River

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mack Charles Parker, kidnaped from his jail cell in this tiny Mississippi sawmill town, died of bullet wounds at the hands of masked terrorists, a coroner's jury ruled Tuesday.

The six-man, shirt-sleeved jury read its simple verdict in the sweltering Pearl River County Courthouse. The verdict said:

"Death apparently was caused by two ¼-inch high speed projectiles that entered the victim's body."

The bloated, water-bleached body of the 23-year old Negro truck driver was found in the Pearl River near Bogalusa, La., Monday. Parker and his kidnapers had been the objects of widespread search by FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen since he was kidnaped April 25.

Parker was awaiting trial on charges of raping a pregnant white woman. His trial would have started April 27.

FBI agent Joseph M. Myers testified at the inquest and said the body showed two fully penetrating holes, one on the right side and the other near the breastbone. Myers told newsmen he didn't care to speculate if the holes penetrated the body.

Another FBI agent, J. E. Smith, testified the top layer of skin was missing from Parker's body, but he added there was enough flesh left on some fingers to establish identity.

The FBI established the identity of the body by comparing the prints with those on Parker's Army enlistment papers.

A sister, aunt and uncle claimed Parker's body from a Hattiesburg, Miss., Negro mortuary and conducted funeral services at nearby Lumberton. Parker's mother could not be located.

Mississippi Gov. J. P. Coleman said earlier the men responsible for Parker's death would be tried as murderers and promised the FBI full cooperation of state resources.

John Doe murder warrants have been issued for the unknown men who kidnaped Parker.

Alleged Slave Ring

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine constabulary officials said Tuesday it had taken into custody a group of 14 Indonesians alleged to have been smuggled into this country to be sold as bonded slaves. A constabulary announcement said the Indonesians, from the North Celebes, were arrested after landing at Cotabato in the south.

Annual "Emmy" Awards Will Be Made Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Last minute preparations for television's all-star soiree of the year were completed Tuesday for the 11th annual "Emmy" awards show beaming Wednesday night.

In addition to the array of TV talent, the vice president of the United States will take part in the presentations for "best" performances and shows of 1958.

The 1½ hour show beams at 10 p.m. p.d.t. and e.d.t. on NBC-TV.

Originating from Hollywood, New York and Washington, D.C., 26 of the 42 awards will be made on the air.

Presenting the golden statuettes from movieland will be Robert Young, Peter Ustinov, James Garner, Dinah Shore, Donna Reed, Walter Brennan, Jack Benny, Shirley Temple and Ann Sothern.

Handing out awards in New York are Dick Clark, Art Carney, Don Knotts, Louis Nye, Dayton Allen and Ed Sullivan.

The Washington contingent of presenters includes Vice President Richard Nixon, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, John C. Doerfer, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn.

An all-tie high of 197 nominees are in the running for honors in an attempt by the National Television Academy to separate categories.

Inflationary Spiral Could Be Outcome

Ike Says Americans Won't Stand By If Prices Go Upward

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower cautioned the steel industry and its workers Tuesday that "the United States cannot stand still and do nothing" if they push wages and prices upward in an inflationary spiral.

Essentially, Eisenhower was taking no new stand in urging both management and the union to display good sense, wisdom and statesmanship or risk government controls on profits, prices and pay.

But his words carried additional impact because of their timing. Contract negotiations began Tuesday in New York. The results, the President told a news conference, will be felt by all industry and all the people.

"So, therefore," he said, "I would again insist that the whole 175 million of us ought to make clear that we are concerned about this matter and this is not something where we are standing aside and seeing ourselves hurt."

Score Of Topics

It was a news conference which circled around among a score of topics, domestic and international. It focused on individuals as much as on events.

From the big power foreign ministers' conference opening next week in Geneva, Eisenhower said he hopes for progress toward settling East-West differences. If anything does develop that enlarges the hope for decreasing world tensions, he said, then "a summit meeting would become almost a—its occurrence would be a foregone conclusion."

Bringing in the individual element, Eisenhower said that would be so because—as he has said before—only Premier Nikita Khrushchev can speak authoritatively for the Soviet Union.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss and Sir Winston Churchill of Britain figured prominently in the session with newsmen. So did former President Harry S. Truman—with respect to an invitation to the White House and to presidential third terms.

For the second time within a week, Eisenhower spoke glowingly of Strauss, who is serving in the Cabinet under a recess appointment.

Holding Hearings

The Senate Commerce Committee is holding hearings on the Strauss nomination. Various Democrats have drawn a bead on Strauss—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) testified Monday that Strauss has tried to deceive the committee.

So Eisenhower was reminded that Clare Boothe Luce quit as ambassador to Brazil on grounds her usefulness had been damaged by the bitterness of her public row with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-

Four Indicted In Puzzle Fix

The four are Walter Rex Johnston III, 33, of Detroit; his wife Ann; George Dingman Jr., 34, Port Stanley, Ont.; and Joseph Dyson, 30, London, Ont.

They were charged with violation of the federal mail fraud statutes and with conspiracy to defraud. Court sources said additional indictments could be expected from the grand jury which has been considering the case since March 30.

The defendants were accused of setting up a dummy newspaper and bank in London, Ont., for the purpose of buying puzzles and answers from Superior Features Syndicate and General Features Inc., of New York.

The indictment says these answers were then supplied to individuals who had been persuaded to enter contests in cities where similar puzzles were being published.

He even acknowledged the foreign aid support of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48, with which he scrapped on domestic issues.

Truman put in a special plea for the development loan fund, designed to provide loans for economic advancement projects in countries where ordinary credit cannot be had.

"You ought to increase" the administration request of 700 million dollars for the fund, he said, noting some administration spokesmen had recommended earlier as much as 1½ billion.

Can Afford Funds

Truman declined repeatedly to be drawn into a discussion whether Congress, if it did not agree on raising the President's total, should cut military foreign aid for the benefit of economic programs.

He said "We can afford adequate funds for both purposes." Further than that, he would say only that it is up to Congress to investigate and establish the priorities.

Besides watchfulness by Congress and insistence on a program that "operates in a showcase," Truman recommended cultivating good public relations both at home and abroad through, and in connection with, foreign aid. The aim, he said, should be "cultivating the friendliest of friendly relations with these countries and not trying to tell them what kind of government they should have."

Parker Shot Before Being Put In River

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Mack Charles Parker, kidnaped from his jail cell in this tiny Mississippi sawmill town, died of bullet wounds at the hands of masked terrorists, a coroner's jury ruled Tuesday.

The six-man, shirt-sleeved jury read its simple verdict in the sweltering Pearl River County Courthouse. The verdict said:

"Death apparently was caused by two ¼-inch high speed projectiles that entered the victim's body."

The bloated, water-bleached body of the 23-year old Negro truck driver was found in the Pearl River near Bogalusa, La., Monday. Parker and his kidnapers had been the objects of widespread search by FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen since he was kidnaped April 25.

Parker was awaiting trial on charges of raping a pregnant white woman. His trial would have started April 27.

FBI agent Joseph M. Myers testified at the inquest and said the body showed two fully penetrating holes, one on the right side and the other near the breastbone. Myers told newsmen he didn't care to speculate if the holes penetrated the body.

Another FBI agent, J. E. Smith, testified the top layer of skin was missing from Parker's body, but he added there was enough flesh left on some fingers to establish identity.

The FBI established the identity of the body by comparing the prints with those on Parker's Army enlistment papers.

A sister, aunt and uncle claimed Parker's body from a Hattiesburg, Miss., Negro mortuary and conducted funeral services at nearby Lumberton. Parker's mother could not be located.

Mississippi Gov. J. P. Coleman said earlier the men responsible for Parker's death would be tried as murderers and promised the FBI full cooperation of state resources.

John Doe murder warrants have been issued for the unknown men who kidnaped Parker.

Alleged Slave Ring

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine constabulary officials said Tuesday it had taken into custody a group of 14 Indonesians alleged to have been smuggled into this country to be sold as bonded slaves. A constabulary announcement said the Indonesians, from the North Celebes, were arrested after landing at Cotabato in the south.

Inflationary Spiral Could Be Outcome

Ike Says Americans Won't Stand By If Prices Go Upward

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower cautioned the steel industry and its workers Tuesday that "the United States cannot stand still and do nothing" if they push wages and prices upward in an inflationary spiral.

Essentially, Eisenhower was taking no new stand in urging both management and the union to display good sense, wisdom and statesmanship or risk government controls on profits, prices and pay.

But his words carried additional impact because of their timing. Contract negotiations began Tuesday in New York. The results, the President told a news conference, will be felt by all industry and all the people.

"So, therefore," he said, "I would again insist that the whole 175 million of us ought to make clear that we are concerned about this matter and this is not something where we are standing aside and seeing ourselves hurt."

Score Of Topics

It was a news conference which circled around among a score of topics, domestic and international. It focused on individuals as much as on events.

From the big power foreign ministers' conference opening next week in Geneva, Eisenhower said he hopes for progress toward settling East-West differences. If anything does develop that enlarges the hope for decreasing world tensions, he said, then "a summit meeting would become almost a—its occurrence would be a foregone conclusion."

Bringing in the individual element, Eisenhower said that would be so because—as he has said before—only Premier Nikita Khrushchev can speak authoritatively for the Soviet Union.

Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss and Sir Winston Churchill of Britain figured prominently in the session with newsmen. So did former President Harry S. Truman—with respect to an invitation to the White House and to presidential third terms.

For the second time within a week, Eisenhower spoke glowingly of Strauss, who is serving in the Cabinet under a recess appointment.

Holding Hearings

The Senate Commerce Committee is holding hearings on the Strauss nomination. Various Democrats have drawn a bead on Strauss—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) testified Monday that Strauss has tried to deceive the committee.

So Eisenhower was reminded that Clare Boothe Luce quit as ambassador to Brazil on grounds her usefulness had been damaged by the bitterness of her public row with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-

Four Indicted In Puzzle Fix

The four are Walter Rex Johnston III, 33, of Detroit; his wife Ann; George Dingman Jr., 34, Port Stanley, Ont.; and Joseph Dyson, 30, London, Ont.

They were charged with violation of the federal mail fraud statutes and with conspiracy to defraud. Court sources said additional indictments could be expected from the grand jury which has been considering the case since March 30.

The defendants were accused of setting up a dummy newspaper and bank in London, Ont., for the purpose of buying puzzles and answers from Superior Features Syndicate and General Features Inc., of New York.

The indictment says these answers were then supplied to individuals who had been persuaded to enter contests in cities where similar puzzles were being published.

Mother, Lover Are Held In Strangulation Of Boys

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A mother and her lover were jailed Tuesday on suspicion of murdering her two sons.

The boys were strangled in the mountains east of here, one at a time, because they had been naughty, officers quoted the arrested pair.

Kenneth Archie Merriam, 36, an unemployed painter, told newsmen after making a statement to police that red-haired Wanda Brogdon, 33, talked him into killing the children.

"It's a shame," he said.

He demonstrated, by putting his hands to his own head and back, how he choked Virgil Lee Brogdon Jr., 5, and then David Wayne Brogdon, 3.

Sheriff's Lt. Tom Isbell said Mrs. Brogdon told him she suggested to Merriam Saturday afternoon that he kill the children.

They took the boys by automobile into the Laguna Mountains that night.

The couple went back to the mountains Monday night and brought the bodies of the children in the car to the home of Merriam's sister, Margaret Schmitter, in suburban Spring Valley.

It was Mrs. Schmitter's frightened telephone cry to the sheriff's office—"There are two dead kids in the car and they're going to get me"—that led to the discovery of the bodies and arrests.

Mrs. Brogdon, the boys and a daughter, Cynthia Ann, 19 months, came here from Rockford, Ill., two weeks ago, with Merriam.

The father, Virgil Brogdon, 42, a truck mechanic, has filed suit for divorce in Illinois.

Cynthia Ann was in the front seat of the car, officers said, when her brothers were taken out and strangled.

She was found at the home of Merriam's sister Tuesday and placed in a county home.

The Brogdons were married six years ago in Jackson, Ill., the two sons were born in Rock Island.

Stole Smallpox

MANILA (AP)—A burglar who broke into the Manila airport quarantine station may have stolen a case of smallpox along with other loot, health authorities warned Monday. The booty included the germ-laden belongings of a Swedish seaman who was suffering from smallpox.

Paid Rackets For Newspaper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ted Thackrey, who ran the now-defunct New York Compass, swore Tuesday he forked over $10,000 to an alleged underworld fixer so he could start publishing his newspaper.

Irving Bitz, described by Thackrey as a man known for "dealing with union situations" and as a reputed associate of the underworld, refused to talk about the alleged payoff when called before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Joseph Simons, former president of the New York Newspaper and Mail Deliveries Union, accused Thackrey of lying and denied receiving any payoff money—but also declared himself confused. And, like Bitz, he invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions.

Recalled to the witness chair, Thackrey stuck to his story.

Thackrey, publisher of the Compass during its three-year life, testified he gave $10,000 to Bitz in 1949 to smoothe his troubles with the deliverers union. Thackrey called it a shakedown and said he was "ashamed of my own part in it."

Samir Rifai Resigns Jordan Minister Post

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Samir Rifai, the pro-western strong man behind King Hussein's often shaky throne, resigned as prime minister Tuesday, pleading ill health. The action may foreshadow restoration of closer relations with the United Arab Republic.

The King apparently felt his own hold on the country was strong enough to accept the resignation, which came as a surprise. He had refused several times before to let Rifai step down.

Hussein asked Hazza Majali, minister of court, to form a new government. He already has begun consultations. Majali said he expects to complete formation of a new government Wednesday.

In a royal letter, Hussein instructed Majali to maintain the present anti-Communist policy and to seek friendly relations with sister Arab states.

The new Premier is known for his pro-Western policies. He was prime minister once before, for less than a week. Forming his government at that time he advocated joining the Baghdad Pact.

His brief tenure, in December 1955, ended when street mobs raged through Amman demanding Jordan side with U.A.R. President Gamel Abdel Nasser and stay out of the Baghdad Pact.

Jordanian membership in the pact is now considered out of the question since Iraq no longer belongs.

Pasternak Expulsion Said 'Trivial Affair'

COPENHAGEN (AP)—The expulsion of Nobel Prize winner Boris Pasternak from the Soviet Writers' Union, was "a trivial affair which everybody in the West may forget within a few years," says Soviet author Mikhail Sholochov.

Pasternak's disputed novel "Dr. Zhivago" was "artistically a weak book," the visiting author told a news conference.

Sentence Beggar

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UPI)—Postmen of Selangor state threatened Tuesday to go on strike unless authorities forced dog owners to place their mail boxes outside their gates. A spokesman complained that eight of the mail carriers had been bitten recently by dogs.

Bandleader Hal McIntyre Dies Of Burns From Fire

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Hal McIntyre, 42, featured musician with the late Glenn Miller before forming his own successful swing band, died Tuesday of burns suffered in a fire at the apartment of his girl vocalist.

McIntyre, hoping for a comeback at Las Vegas, Nev., this summer, suffered first, second and third degree burns on the lower half of his body when he apparently fell asleep while smoking a cigarette early Sunday, said police.

Only a nurse was present when McIntyre died shortly before noon at General Hospital. His sister, Pauline McIntyre, Cromwell, Conn arrived at the hospital shortly after the bandleader succumbed.

McIntyre, only 26 when he formed his band, was much in demand for college dances and recording dates during the 1940s. But when popularity of the big bands began to ebb, the dates became fewer and in recent years, the band has had few engagements.

Jeanne McManus, who sang with the McIntyre band for the past seven years, said she had left McIntyre working on musical arrangements Saturday night. When she returned to the apartment about 3 a.m. Sunday, she found McIntyre asleep on the couch and went to a room across the hall rather than awake him.

But she said sometime later, she smelled smoke and found McIntyre had put a chain and lock on the apartment door. She summoned help when she was unable to enter.

Firemen found the bandleader huddled under a smouldering blanket on the kitchen floor of the apartment.

Tornadic Funnels Brew In Midlands

By United Press International

Ominous tornado funnels flickered across the Midlands Tuesday on a hot-and-cold weather front stretching from Minnesota to Texas.

Twisters were reported in Texas, Kansas, and Iowa, where they tore up farms and pulled down trees and power lines.

The tornadic storms sprang up along the boundary between cool air and a May heat wave which pushed the temperature past 90 degrees and broke records in many Midwest cities.

Hot weather proved a greater killer than the storms and flooding rains. Beaches and fishing holes were jammed during the first hot spell of the season and more than 20 persons drowned.

Deaths blamed on storms, floods and hot weather drownings since last week end totalled 35—seven in Illinois, five each in Indiana, Georgia, and Minnesota, four in Iowa, three in Texas, two each in Oklahoma and Nebraska, and one in both Michigan and Minnesota.

The U.S. Weather Bureau called the no-man's land between the hot and cold air "a fertile zone for numerous showers and thunderstorms." Severe thunderstorm warnings went up for parts of eight states — Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana.

Iowa became the most lively weather battleground. Unconfirmed twisters hit near Ames, Marshalltown and Audubon, while rain and high winds lashed the state capital of Des Moines and six other cities:

An ornament was ripped from one of Iowa's four capitol domes at Des Moines. Roofs and walls were torn away on dozens of farms and fallen trees blocked U.S. 30 near Ames for a while.

Rivers rose rapidly after rains measured at three inches in six hours at Council Bluffs, Iowa, 3.94 inches at Junction City, Kan., and 4.5 inches in Nebraska. Small streams went out of their banks in northeast Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska.

East of the storm front, the weather bore all the marks of an August heat wave.

Louisville, Ky., had three consecutive days of record-breaking 90-plus heat and feared another one. Ninety-degree reading likewise broke records in Ohio, while Chicago registered 91 degrees heat and a "DI" (discomfort index) of 81—a figured base based on the heat and the humidity designed to tell sufferers how bad they really felt.

Returns from 567 of 572 polling places showed 157,764 for Goodman to 59,656 for Masson and 158,171 for Graham to 50,547 for Fanseen.

With 424 polling places reporting, the school loan had 48,248 votes for to 11,436 against.

Freighter Aground

TOKYO (UPI) — A 10,000-ton Greek freighter reported Tuesday it had run aground on a sand bar off one of the Amami Oshima Islands, south of Japan. A radio message from the freighter Nacalaos Kailis said water was seeping into the engine room but that all 31 crewmen were safe.

There are now 268 registered nurses per 100,000 population in the U. S. compared with 259 per 100,000 in 1956 and 251 per 100,000 in 1954.

CONFIRMED — Associate Justice Potter Stewart of Cincinnati, Ohio, yesterday was confirmed by the Senate which approved his nomination for the high court bench, 70-17. Stewart, 44, is Republican. (AP Photofax)

Potter Stewart Confirmed As Court Justice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Tuesday confirmed the nomination of Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart despite southern objections that the Jusice Department is packing the court with advocates of racial integration.

The vote was 70-17, with Southerners casting all of the dissenting votes.

The Dixie senators emphasized they did not object to Stewart, a 44-year-old Ohio federal judge, on personal grounds. They joined in praising his legal ability and integrity.

But they attacked the nomination on grounds that (1) the Justice Department had President Eisenhower appoint Stewart because he favors school desegregation and (2) that Eisenhower robbed the Senate of some of its control over the nomination by giving Stewart a recess appointment.

They were joined in the latter complaint by Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.), who backed Stewart's nomination. Hart said the Senate "might well inform the President that the practice of making interim appointments. . .is seriously hampering the Senate in the performance of its duties."

Stewart took his seat on the court under a recess appointment last October. Senate confirmation was necessary to make permanent his appointment to the $35,000-a-year, lifetime job.

Hart said the practice of making recess appointments to the court had not been used for more than a century until Eisenhower named Earl Warren as chief justice in 1953.

Ore) over her appointment. Eisenhower was asked whether he thought Strauss would be well advised to resign, too.

"I do not," he said. He spaced his words and bore down on them.

On another matter involving the voice of the people, the President said with a smile he hopes the Republican presidential nominee in 1960, whoever he is, carries more Southern states than the five Eisenhower did in 1956. He wouldn't be put in the position, he said, of narrowing the possible nominees down to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Other Subjects

On other subjects Eisenhower said:

PARKER — It hadn't occurred to him, the President said, that a stronger civil rights law might be needed as a result of the slaying by a Mississippi mob of Negro Mack Charles Parker, who was accused of rape. Existing law was violated, Eisenhower said, and he added he has every confidence the FBI and state authorities will punish the guilty if they can be found.

FLIERS — Eisenhower said he has no reason to believe the Soviet Union is holding any of 11 U.S. fliers who are unaccounted for since their plane was forced down in Soviet Armenia last September. Bodies of six others were returned. The President said it was "on a very personal basis" that he directed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to take up the case with Khrushchev in Moscow Monday.

FOREIGN AID — Congressional committees are holding hearings on the administration's 3,930,000,000-foreign aid program and Eisenhower opened the news conference with another bid for support.

INDIA — As to bids for massive increases in aid to India, the President said he gets fearful about adjectives. Certainly, he said, India is "one of the countries that we are massively interested in." But while India's progress should be more rapid, he said, the United States shouldn't have the sole responsibility of making sure that it is.

Munford Named Head Of U.S. Steel Company

NEW YORK (UPI) —Walter F. Munford, 58, a former open hearth worker, Tuesday was elected president of U.S. Steel Corp., succeeding Clifford F. Hood, who is retiring.

He will act as chief administrative office of the company. He was elected a director and chairman of the executive committee.

Munford, born June 8, 1900 in Worcester, Mass., was elevated from the post of executive vice president — engineering and research, which he held since early 1958.

"Big Steel" along with 11 other basic steel companies has started negotiations with the United Steelworkers of America that will determine whether or not there is a steel strike this summer.

Hood, who was 65 last February, announced his retirement at the U.S. Steel annual meeting Monday.

Munford, unlike U.S. Steel Chairman Roger M. Blough and his Yale Law School background, comes to the post of president with long technical experience developed through an education at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Munford has been associated most of his life with U.S. Steel's American Steel & Wire Co. subsidiary, joining the company as a die-reamer nearly 40 years ago.

Soviet Tests Produce Most Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic Energy Commission Chairman John A. McCone said Tuesday a scientific advisory committee soon "will give further reassurance to the people of the world about the very small hazard resulting from fallout" of nuclear bomb tests.

McCone's comment, made during a speech to the National Press Club, came almost simultaneously with testimony by an AEC scientist before the Senate-House joint Committee on Atomic Energy saying that:

1. Soviet nuclear tests released more contamination into the atmosphere in the last two years than did tests by the United States and Britain combined.

2. There are some estimates that radioactivity already produced may cause 3,500 to 7,000 additional bone cancer cases in 70 years.

These were the views of Dr. Charles L. Dunham, director of the AEC's division of biology and medicine.

In answer to a question, McCone said he did not think it possible to say that testing to date has harmed no one. The effect, he added, will not be serious as compared with other common hazards to which people are exposed, including natural radiation.

McCone emphasized the need for agreement to the test control plan proposed by President Eisenhower to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on April 13.

If the Soviets do not accept the proposal, McCone said, "We can only conclude that their objective is to seek an arrangement that would permit them to develop their own weapons by tests hidden from view deep inside Russia and China while we, honoring the agreement, will stop our testing."

The United States cannot accept such a risk, McCone said.

He said he would hope some agreement would be reached for no more tests within the earth's atmosphere.

Dunham told the congressional committee the estimates given Tuesday represented statistics hitherto secret.

Philip H. Goodman, who defeated trucking business operator Charles A. Masson, for city council president, and Comptroller R. Walter Graham Jr., who brushed aside the challenge of James F. Fanseen in his bid for re-election.

Baltimore voters also overwhelmingly approved an 18 - million - dollar school construction loan.

Returns from 567 of 572 polling places showed 157,764 for Goodman to 59,656 for Masson and 158,171 for Graham to 50,547 for Fanseen.

With 424 polling places reporting, the school loan had 48,248 votes for to 11,436 against.

Freighter Aground

TOKYO (UPI) — A 10,000-ton Greek freighter reported Tuesday it had run aground on a sand bar off one of the Amami Oshima Islands, south of Japan. A radio message from the freighter Nacalaos Kailis said water was seeping into the engine room but that all 31 crewmen were safe.

There are now 268 registered nurses per 100,000 population in the U. S. compared with 259 per 100,000 in 1956 and 251 per 100,000 in 1954.

CONFIRMED — Associate Justice Potter Stewart of Cincinnati, Ohio, yesterday was confirmed by the Senate which approved his nomination for the high court bench, 70-17. Stewart, 44, is Republican. (AP Photofax)

Potter Stewart Confirmed As Court Justice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Tuesday confirmed the nomination of Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart despite southern objections that the Jusice Department is packing the court with advocates of racial integration.

The vote was 70-17, with Southerners casting all of the dissenting votes.

The Dixie senators emphasized they did not object to Stewart, a 44-year-old Ohio federal judge, on personal grounds. They joined in praising his legal ability and integrity.

But they attacked the nomination on grounds that (1) the Justice Department had President Eisenhower appoint Stewart because he favors school desegregation and (2) that Eisenhower robbed the Senate of some of its control over the nomination by giving Stewart a recess appointment.

They were joined in the latter complaint by Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.), who backed Stewart's nomination. Hart said the Senate "might well inform the President that the practice of making interim appointments. . .is seriously hampering the Senate in the performance of its duties."

Stewart took his seat on the court under a recess appointment last October. Senate confirmation was necessary to make permanent his appointment to the $35,000-a-year, lifetime job.

Hart said the practice of making recess appointments to the court had not been used for more than a century until Eisenhower named Earl Warren as chief justice in 1953.

Ore) over her appointment. Eisenhower was asked whether he thought Strauss would be well advised to resign, too.

"I do not," he said. He spaced his words and bore down on them.

On another matter involving the voice of the people, the President said with a smile he hopes the Republican presidential nominee in 1960, whoever he is, carries more Southern states than the five Eisenhower did in 1956. He wouldn't be put in the position, he said, of narrowing the possible nominees down to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Other Subjects

On other subjects Eisenhower said:

PARKER — It hadn't occurred to him, the President said, that a stronger civil rights law might be needed as a result of the slaying by a Mississippi mob of Negro Mack Charles Parker, who was accused of rape. Existing law was violated, Eisenhower said, and he added he has every confidence the FBI and state authorities will punish the guilty if they can be found.

FLIERS — Eisenhower said he has no reason to believe the Soviet Union is holding any of 11 U.S. fliers who are unaccounted for since their plane was forced down in Soviet Armenia last September. Bodies of six others were returned. The President said it was "on a very personal basis" that he directed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to take up the case with Khrushchev in Moscow Monday.

FOREIGN AID — Congressional committees are holding hearings on the administration's 3,930,000,000-foreign aid program and Eisenhower opened the news conference with another bid for support.

INDIA — As to bids for massive increases in aid to India, the President said he gets fearful about adjectives. Certainly, he said, India is "one of the countries that we are massively interested in." But while India's progress should be more rapid, he said, the United States shouldn't have the sole responsibility of making sure that it is.

Honor Miss Muffet

HERTFORD, England (UPI)—The British government Tuesday announced it planned to preserve as a monument the place where little Miss Muffet sat on her tuffet, eating her curds and whey. The Ministry of Housing said that Muffet farm, where the nursery rhyme was written was "a building of historical interest."

Munford Named Head Of U.S. Steel Company

NEW YORK (UPI) —Walter F. Munford, 58, a former open hearth worker, Tuesday was elected president of U.S. Steel Corp., succeeding Clifford F. Hood, who is retiring.

He will act as chief administrative office of the company. He was elected a director and chairman of the executive committee.

Munford, born June 8, 1900 in Worcester, Mass., was elevated from the post of executive vice president — engineering and research, which he held since early 1958.

"Big Steel" along with 11 other basic steel companies has started negotiations with the United Steelworkers of America that will determine whether or not there is a steel strike this summer.

Hood, who was 65 last February, announced his retirement at the U.S. Steel annual meeting Monday.

Munford, unlike U.S. Steel Chairman Roger M. Blough and his Yale Law School background, comes to the post of president with long technical experience developed through an education at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Munford has been associated most of his life with U.S. Steel's American Steel & Wire Co. subsidiary, joining the company as a die-reamer nearly 40 years ago.

Soviet Tests Produce Most Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atomic Energy Commission Chairman John A. McCone said Tuesday a scientific advisory committee soon "will give further reassurance to the people of the world about the very small hazard resulting from fallout" of nuclear bomb tests.

McCone's comment, made during a speech to the National Press Club, came almost simultaneously with testimony by an AEC scientist before the Senate-House joint Committee on Atomic Energy saying that:

1. Soviet nuclear tests released more contamination into the atmosphere in the last two years than did tests by the United States and Britain combined.

2. There are some estimates that radioactivity already produced may cause 3,500 to 7,000 additional bone cancer cases in 70 years.

These were the views of Dr. Charles L. Dunham, director of the AEC's division of biology and medicine.

In answer to a question, McCone said he did not think it possible to say that testing to date has harmed no one. The effect, he added, will not be serious as compared with other common hazards to which people are exposed, including natural radiation.

McCone emphasized the need for agreement to the test control plan proposed by President Eisenhower to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on April 13.

If the Soviets do not accept the proposal, McCone said, "We can only conclude that their objective is to seek an arrangement that would permit them to develop their own weapons by tests hidden from view deep inside Russia and China while we, honoring the agreement, will stop our testing."

The United States cannot accept such a risk, McCone said.

He said he would hope some agreement would be reached for no more tests within the earth's atmosphere.

Dunham told the congressional committee the estimates given Tuesday represented statistics hitherto secret.

Two Die In Floods

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Floodwaters from four rivers covered large areas of central and northern Sweden Tuesday, damaging homes and farms and forcing numerous factories to close temporarily. At least two persons died in the floods.

Common Events In Berlin Contain Explosiveness

Editors Note—This is the first of a four-part series analyzing the Berlin crisis and its impact on the East-West struggle.

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP)—It was noon on a quiet day in West Berlin.

A shabbily dressed woman walked down Tauentzien Strasse and looked into the window of the Woolworth department store.

A radio announcer read the midday news.

A gray-haired man entered the Marienfelde refugee camp, just as some 300 persons do every day.

Common events. Hardly noticed.

But they contained the kind of cumulative explosive force that has resulted in Soviet Premier Nikia Khrushchev raising the spectre of World War III over Berlin.

Why? That woman came from Communist East Berlin. What she saw in the store window made her think how much better life could be in the West, and she went home to tell her neighbors.

That radio announcer was broadcasting free world news and ideas to the 18 million people of surrounding satellite East Germany.

That gray-haired man was an engineer, one of hundreds of thousands of professionals, technicians and skilled workers who have fled into West Berlin from East Germany.

To the East Germans, West Berlin stands as a symbol of hope, truth and a promise of eventual liberation.

To Khrushchev: "Berlin is a bone in my throat."

By ending the Allied occupation and turning West Berlin into a so-called free city, Khrushchev hopes to neutralize the metropolis.

This Khrushchev cannot do as long as divided Berlin is governed by the postwar four-power accords. These assure free movement between West Berlin and East Berlin, now the capital of East Germany.

West Berlin, which is linked to West Germany by one railroad and one highway under Soviet control, and three air corridors, lies 110 miles deep in the heart of East Germany.

To understand its upsetting impact on the East Germans, take a tour of West Berlin. Then visit East Berlin.

Start on West Berlin's fashionable Kurfuerstendamm, the broad glittering boulevard, lined with colorful sidewalk cafes and shop windows crammed with choice goods.

Look into the theaters or the pages of the city's 10 daily newspapers and see how the world's clashing ideas compete for attention.

In tree-lined Dhalem suburb, the U.S. Army garrison of some 4,000 men is based. The soldiers and their families live in a rather insular community with their own housing, amusement facilities, school and shopping center.

However, within rifle shot of the PX you come upon the combat-ready tanks of the three battle groups and the alert GIs who maneuver in nearby Grunewald Forest.

"If the Russians attack West Berlin, we know what to do," says Maj. Gen. Barksdale Hamlett, the blunt soldier-diplomat who is the American commandant of West Berlin.

What Hamlett means is that his men would shoot.

Their shots could signal World War III and nuclear strikes against the Soviet Union. Knowing this, the Red army — with its 400,000 troops encamped in East Germany — respects the token garrison of 10,000 American, French and British troops who defend West Berlin.

Driving past the magnificent new Hansaviertel residential district suddenly you come upon the Brandenburg Tor — gateway to East Berlin, and home of 1,100,000 people.

In the drab, bomb-shattered Communist capital, there is little of the cheerful bustle of West Berlin. The absence of surging pedestrian crowds and throbbing traffic is eerie.

The gray, dirty walls of the buildings are decked with Red banners bearing slogans: "Socialism Triumphs."

The Reds promise that major reconstruction of East Berlin will begin next year.

The only showpiece street is Stalinallee, a broad boulevard lined with apartment buildings in the grim square style of Stalin architecture.

The facades of East Berlin and West Berlin, however, do not reveal the most significant differences between the two cities.

The East German regime has put its short supplies of capital and structural steel into a crash—and impressive—buildup of heavy industry, rather than into the reconstruction of its capital.

At the same time West Berlin has had the benefit of nearly a billion dollars in American aid. It is also heavily subsidized by the West German government with grants, low-interest loans, and certain tax exemptions.

The Iron Curtain sliced Berlin in 1948 when the Soviets began severing connections with the Western sectors of the city and communizing their own.

The division of Berlin became complete during the abortive Soviet 1948-49 land blockade of West Berlin.

Idle Pay Case Is Postponed

TROY, N.Y. (UPI) — A state Labor Department hearing on the unemployment insurance rights of 22 fired West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. strikers was adjourned Monday for one week.

The postponement was requested by Local 678, United Papermakers and Paperworkers, whose members have been on strike since Jan. 20 at the company's Mechanicville plant. The company has contended that the 22, who were fired for alleged picketing violence some two months after the strike began, should be made to wait an extra period before being eligible for jobless pay benefits.

Live Animal To Be Fired In Jupiter

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A live animal, probably an ape, will be fired into space in the nose cone of a Jupiter missile within the next 60 days, the chief of the Army's space program said Monday.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army Ordnance Missile Command, revealed the coming venture at a press conference. He didn't say what type of animal would be launched but indicated that a monkey would be the best guess.

The launching will be one of the many phases of the man in space program.

Earth Satellites Camera Developed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of a new type of camera for photographing earth satellites was reported Monday.

It was described as potentially important for spotting proposed "winking" satellites, which would be equipped with a powerful flashing light visible for thousands of miles. They would offer a beacon in space that could be used for new and more accurate measurements of the shape and size of the earth and of distances between points on the earth.

Dr. William Markowitz, of the U.S. Naval Observatory, told about development of the still experimental camera at the opening of the annual meeting of the American Geophysical Union.

Some experts explain the red appearance of the planet Mars as coming from granite rocks or red clay which give a ruddy reflection in the sunlight.

Jury Recesses Hearing In River Shooting Case

LA PLATA, Md. (AP) — The Charles County grand jury recessed late Tuesday after hearing more than six hours of testimony, but there was no word on the status of the Potomac River shooting incident.

State's Atty. George W. Bowling said the grand jury was not expected to report its findings on the case until Thursday. He declined to comment on what matters were taken up Tuesday, although he said none of Monday's witnesses appeared.

Harvey King, 32, of Colonial Beach, Va., and John F. Griffith, 39, of Oak Grove, Va., had appeared before the jury panel then.

They were aboard a 20-foot outboard motor boat in which 32-year-old Berkeley Muse of Oak Grove was shot to death in a run-in with a Maryland Tidewater Fisheries patrol boat on the Potomac River off Colonial Beach April 8.

King was shot through the leg during the encounter and Griffith escaped injury. Both have been charged with illegal oyster dredging in the Potomac.

Manslaughter charges against three Maryland TFC officers were dismissed here last Friday by Magistrate Lemerton Crist. Bowling then announced he would include the shooting incident among cases to be brought before the grand jury which convened Monday.

After convening, the jurors indicated they would try to have their findings ready for Circuit Court on Thursday, Bowling said.

"All I can say is that none of Tuesday's witnesses would be of interest to you," he said. "They did not include the witnesses who testified Monday afternoon."

Church Damaged In Riverdale Fire

RIVERDALE, Md. (AP) — Fire caused damage estimated at $100,000 to St. Bernard's Catholic Church Tuesday.

The blaze, which firemen said may have been set deliberately, caused the evacuation of 800 pupils from the adjoining St. Bernard's School.

Lawrence R. Woltz, Prince Georges County fire marshal, said three teenage boys were seen running from the church just before the fire was discovered.

Suits Filed In Deaths Of Airline Pilots

BALTIMORE (AP) — Survivors of an airline pilot and co-pilot killed when a Maryland Air National Guard jet trainer rammed a Capital Airlines Viscount in the air filed suits totaling $1,030,000 Tuesday against the federal government and the jet pilot.

The federal court actions contend the government was to blame for the accident last May 20 over Brunswick, Md. because a government control tower and center directed movements of both planes.

Twelve persons died in the collision. The airliner, carrying seven passengers, was six minutes away from a landing at Baltimore's Friendship Airport on a flight from Chicago and Pittsburgh. The dead also included four airline crew members and a passenger in the jet.

In addition to the government, the other defendant in the suits is Capt. Julius R. McCoy of Baltimore, pilot of the Maryland Air National Guard plane who was the only survivor of the crash.

One suit was filed in behalf of Vance L. Brady, 37, wife of Kendall Jesse Brady, 38, pilot of the airliner, and her two young children. They live in Illinois. The second suit was brought in behalf of Mary Jane Meyer, 26, widow of co-pilot Paul F. Meyer, 26, and her three infant children. They reside in Indiana. Each suit asks $500,000 for support of the survivors and $15,000 for funeral expenses, pain and suffering.

The suits were filed by Austin F. Canfield Jr., of Washington, administrator of the estates.

Canfield contended the government was negligent in allowing the T33 jet to fly in the airlanes at a speed dangerous to slower commercial planes and in permitting it to fly through the airway without giving the pilot adequate instructions.

Captain McCoy operated the jet at an excessive speed, failed to keep a careful lookout and failed to give the right-of-way, the suits charge.

Body Of Boy, 12, Found In Stream

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP) — The body of a 12-year-old boy found Monday in a St. Marys County stream has been sent to Baltimore for an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

The body was that of Andrian Benizer of Culpeper, Va., a sixth grade student at Leonard Hall School here.

He had been reported missing Sunday after swimming with other students in the stream at the rear of the school.

Baltimore Pastor To Become Rector

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Rev. George A. Taylor, 55-year-old rector of St. Davids's Episcopal Church in Baltimore, will become rector of historic St. Paul's Church near Rock Hall, Kent County, in the fall.

He will make the transfer next Nov. 29. St. Paul's, situated in the diocese of Easton, was established in 1693 and has a congregation of 300, one-fourth the size of the Baltimore church.

St. Paul's present rector, the Rev. John M. Nelson, reaches the retirement age of 72 in November.

The first artificial eyes were manufactured by Pierre Gougelman in New York in 1851.

Old War Flag To Be Flown At St. John's

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A new flag of an old war is going up at St. John's College.

A 15-stripe 15 - star flag of the War of 1812 will be hung in the new Francis Scott Key Auditorium named for the St. John's graduate who wrote "The Star Spangled Banner."

College officials thought it fitting that the auditorium should have the type flag which inspired Key to write the national anthem. None could be found, so they are having one made.

It will be in place May 22 when President Eisenhower, dedicates a new $2,100,000 building which contains the auditorium, a laboratory and planetarium.

The Smithsonian Museum in Washington has the actual garrison flag which Key saw the night of Sept. 13, 1814 when he paced an American ship anchored in Patapsco River and watched the British bombardment of Fort McHenry.

Former Casino To Be Floated

COLONIAL BEACH, Va. (AP)—If all goes well, there'll be a mighty strange craft on the Potomac River the latter part of this week.

The Jackpot, a former gambling casino, is scheduled to be floated to the Maryland side to a new site near the Potomac River bridge.

Dennis Conner, co-owner of the casino, said workmen will attempt the shift by Friday.

The building will become the focal point of a new development under way on a 150-acre tract in Maryland near the bridge, Conner said. It will become primarily a seafood restaurant.

In its heyday the Jackpot held 75 slot machines. The one-armed bandits were put out of commission a year ago by the General Assembly in all establishments that could not be reached on foot from the Maryland shore.

Plane's Brakes Fail, Building Damaged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A twin engine plane crashed into the operations building at the Military Air Transport terminal Tuesday when its brakes failed while taxiing.

L. W. Burton, manager of National Airport, said no one was injured.

He said the plane was an F-23 Fairchild executive transport piloted by William Hope and owned by the Reynolds Metal Co. of Richmond, Va.

The plane's nose was damaged and a hole about ten feet square was knocked out of the side of the operations building, Burton said.

Appeal Is Filed On Assault Count

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A 19-year-old Baltimore illiterate, sentenced to life imprisonment for assault with attempt to rape, Tuesday asked the Court of Appeals to reverse his conviction.

The appeal was made on behalf of Jerry Paul Cooper, Negro, who was convicted last Sept. 18 of assaulting a 72-year-old white woman in her home in Baltimore.

A Baltimore Criminal Court judge sentenced him to life imprisonment and ordered him sent to Patuxent Institute for examination and treatment.

Forgetfulness Costs $133,200

SALISBURY (AP)—The Wicomico County commissioners said today the U.S. customs collector's office in Baltimore has assessed Wicomico and Somerset County $133,200 in penalties for forgetting to renew the license on a Wicomico River ferry.

The commissioners said the collector's office was charging the two counties jointly $30 every time the ferry touched shore from Sept. 11, 1958, when the ferry's license expired, until Oct. 22, when the application for renewal was filed. And that was 4,440 trips.

The Wicomico River separates the two counties. The ferry is operated by the Wicomico County Roads Dept.

A mollusk is a shellfish.

Two Brothers Charged With Assault

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two young half-brothers were charged Tuesday with a series of attacks on women, including the rape of one mother and the attempted rape of another.

Clifford E. Hazel, 25-year-old Negro painter, was held without bail on the charge of raping the young mother of three children in her apartment April 2 and with attempting to rape a 40-year-old woman last Thursday.

Hazel also was held in a total of $43,000 bail for 23 other crimes, including assault, robbery, burglary and purse snatching, mostly in the Mount Royal area.

His 19-year-old half-brother, Haywood Stanley, was held without bail in the attempted rape case and on $26,000 bail on 15 other charges.

Both pleaded innocent before Magistrate Calvin Douglass.

The woman who was raped in her home said a Negro sneaked in by the front door left ajar after she returned from a shopping trip. She said she was reaching down to pick up one baby when she was grabbed around the neck. The man herded the children and a maid into another room, tied up the mother and attacked her.

This attack prompted police to put extra details of patrolmen in the section to combat an outbreak of crime.

Last Thursday, another woman said she was beaten by two men hiding in her home. One tried to rape her but the assailants were frightened off by her husband, who had been sleeping upstairs. Her screams aroused him and he raced to her aid.

One of the men was arrested moments later by a patrolman on duty in the area.

Mine Bureau Gets Fund To Fight Fire

The State Board of Public Works Monday granted the Maryland Bureau of Mines $5,000 to be used with federal matching funds in controlling a mine fire on Savage Mountain.

The bureau has been working for several months to isolate the burning seam in the Koontz Coal Company mine on the side of Savage Mountain above Klondyke.

A ditch is being dug around the burning area, and backfilled with non-combustible clay. This semi-circular ditch goes from ground level to a depth of 83 feet at its deepest point.

It was originally figured to be 750 feet in length and only 50 feet in depth, but the contractor ran into burning coal in the middle of the ditch.

Frank T. Powers, director of the Bureau of Mines, told the Board of Public Works that it was necessary to change the course of the ditch to get around the fire.

This called for more excavation than figured in the original estimate when the contract was let to Reese Brothers Company of the Clearfield, Pa., area, he explained.

Board members approved the grant after noting the state had already spent $20,000 on the project.

Otherwise, the work that has been done would have been in vain, Powers said, if the amount wouldn't have been approved. This will allow the job to be completed.

Lumberjacks Get Weariest

For sheer expenditure of physical energy on the job, a recent study by the International Labor Organization of the United Nations indicates, the most intensive workers are probably not ditch-diggers, but lumberjacks.

In its research on the element of fatigue which boosts accident-frequency rates, the agency noted that in all countries where numerical data are available, mishaps in timber camps are among the highest. Lack of knowledge of the work is a contributing factor, the ILO said, but the degree of fatigue involved in timber harvesting requires an energy consumption of 5,000 to 6,000 calories daily. By comparison, a factory worker needs 3,000 to 4,000 calories and a desk worker 3,000 daily.

County Funds Breakdown Is Being Urged

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received a letter from James P. Rogers, certified public accountant, concerning the board's request for information on a more detailed breakdown of operating expenses of the county.

Rogers stated that the board's suggestion is not only feasible, but desirable. He said that if the more detailed program on a departmental basis were instituted it would require the addition of supplemental records. These supplemental records would be integrated with the present accounting system.

Rogers said such a program would probably require an additional clerk in the Accounting Department. The detailed breakdown of departmental costs would provide more control in the management of the county funds and the cost of such a plan would be justified on this basis. The plan would also, if the information obtained was utilized, probably save the county considerable money, Rogers said.

The present county commissioners feel that a more detailed breakdown of expenses of the departments would provide them with a first-hand idea on how the various accounts stand and action could be taken with full knowledge of the financial status of the departments.

The commissioners have also authorized the Welfare Board to use $891.93 from the administrative budget to pay the county's share of Social Security for welfare workers starting July 1.

Orchard Association Plans Protection Program

Orchards in eastern Allegany County and in the nearby apple growing counties of West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle will be protected again this year by "cloud seeding."

The orchardists in this section have formed the Blue Ridge Weather Modification Association, a non-profit organization, and have elected Henry W. Miller Jr., Paw Paw, president of Consolidated Orchards, as its head.

The association has contracted for the third year the Weather Modification Company of San Jose, Calif., to conduct the program from May 15 until September 15.

Basically, the procedure is to drop silver iodide particles into clouds to reduce the threat of hail damage to the fruit.

This practice, it is reported, has reduced the threat of hail considerably in the two previous years. The particles, when dropped into hail-bearing or threatening clouds, change it to slush or rain, which does little damage to the crops.

The Weather Modification Company for the past two years and again this year has Martinsburg Airport as its center of operations.

There are three pilots, two meteorologists, a radar technician, three ground generator servicemen and a secretary who form the nucelus of the operations in the two-state area.

There are many weather reporters located in various sections of the area being protected and their reports are coordinated with Weather Bureau infromation and other meteorological data that is obtained.

The Weather Modification Company uses two methods to seed a cloud that appears ominous.

When one approaches, the ground generators are turned on. Here a gas is ignited into a hot flame and silver iodide particles are fed into it.

The heat carries the particles into the air and, in the case of most approaching storms, into the updraft. In this manner it is hoped that the particles will be carried into the storm area.

At the same time, the planes drop the silver iodide into the clouds from above. This is the seeding procedure.

According to a report on hail modification made at the annual convention of the West Virginia Horticultural Society in Martinsburg, Charles A. O'Hanlon of the modification company gave some data pertaining to past operations.

He pointed out that in 1957, hail damage was reported on 15 per cent of the acreage protected.

Last year, by seeding on 51 days, the damage was reduced to nine per cent on 18,550 acres covered.

The association that hires the company charges each orchardist willing to go along with the plan to a certain amount for each acre being protected.

According to an industry spokesman, they feel that they have made a good investment for a few dollars an acre, whereas one bad storm could cost them hundreds of dollars an acre in damaged fruit.

Delinquent Youth Sent To Patuxent

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday sentenced William Henry Harman Jr., 18, to a term not to exceed two years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl.

Judge Harris said that Harman would be sent direct to the Patuxent Institution for examination as a defective delinquent. The reformatory sentence is simply a formality which is followed in such cases, Judge Harris remarked.

The young man was told that the commitment to the institution was being done not only to help him correct his ways and to allow him to receive treatment, but also as a method of saving the taxpayers money in the future.

Judge Harris said that the youth who came from a broken home and has had no parental guidance, has been in difficulty with the law on numerous occasions. He has been committed to the State Training School for Boys, has been in State Forestry camps on several occasions and when younger was placed in foster homes by the Welfare Board all to no avail.

Camper Club Sets Meeting

A special meeting of the Allegany Camper Club will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Allegany High School, according to John Yoder, president.

Final plans for the appearance of the Glenn Miller orchestra on Thursday, May 14, will be discussed, Yoder said. Volunteers are needed by the various committee chairmen, and persons interested in assisting should attend the meeting, he continued.

A progress report was made at a recent meeting of the organization and Yoder stated that sales are exceeding expectations and a sell-out is anticipated. Persons wishing to attend the dance, which will be held in Allegany High's new gymnasium, should purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

The orchestra, which is under the direction of Ray McKinley, will present a concert from 8 to 9 p. m., Yoder said, and the dance is scheduled from 9 p. m. to midnight.

The president announced that Harry Grimes has been appointed chairman of the club's sports committee.

TRANSPORTATION QUEEN CANDIDATES — Miss Cathleen Grubb (left), 1403 Bedford Street, and Miss Rosalie Femi, LaVale, are the two latest candidates for the Transportation Week Queen being sponsored by the Tri-State Traffic Club for the week May 10-16. Miss Grubb, 20, a graduate of Fort Hill High School, is a student at Frostburg State Teachers College where she is active in the Girls Glee Club, Maryland Singers, and editor of Class History. She was a May queen attendant. Miss Femi, 21, is employed by a local dentist and sings with the Peter Lukas orchestra. She was a cheerleader and appeared in several plays at Allegany High School.

County Boards Plan Periodic Get-Togethers

The boards of commissioners of Garrett and Frederick counties have accepted the invitation of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to hold periodical meetings to discuss mutual problems.

The idea for the meetings was advanced last week by Commissioner William A. Wilson of the local board. He said information received at a meeting in Washington several weeks ago when the county boards of several counties were guests of Rep. John Foley proved enlightening.

The county board yesterday approved the lease of the U.S. Naval and Marine Armory on McKaig's Hill for another year. The land on which the military installation is built is owned by the county.

A request for a permit for a junk yard on McMullen Highway near Rawlings was received from Florence C. Mills. She said she will operate a new and used furniture and appliance business and there may be times when it will be necessary to junk some items such as refrigerators and stoves.

She said there will be no junked cars involved in the business and no burning on the premises.

The board also cleared the question involved in the operation of a junk yard by Robert Klink. Leslie J. Clark, board attorney, said an investigation showed the junk yard was located about 900 feet off Winchester Road. He will not be required to have a license.

Heated Exchange At Board Meeting

There was a rather heated exchange yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners between John J. Rowan, board president, and Edgar D. Growden, operator of the Starlight Drive-in Theater on Oldtown Road.

Growden appeared before the board to inquire why the repairs to the entrance into the drive-in theater had been stopped. Rowan in no uncertain terms, told Growden that "I'm tired of you coming in here every meeting complaining. We've been trying to complete the work and have been hampered by rainy weather."

Rowan also said that Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, moved the equipment to a nearby road to do some work as it was impossible to continue on the theater entranceway due to pool of water in the section.

Growden said he had been trying for a year to get something done. Rowan countered with the assertion that the promise for the work made by the former board had not been carried out and the present board was trying to help him and had been bothered by continuous complaints.

Mason Plans Answer To Job Status

Cumberland's city recreation director will submit an answer at next Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council to the latest proposal offered him to withhold carrying out his resignation.

C. Eugene Mason, city recreation director, was told following a lengthy meeting of the Mayor and council Monday that the position he held would be placed under Civil Service.

Among Mason's reasons for resigning, given at a meeting last week, were salary and security.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech yesterday clarified a report that wages were not discussed. He said the meeting was concerned mainly over the amount Mason could be offered.

But after the long discussion, the mayor explained that the council could not decide on a definite amount.

The commissioners felt, he said, that the subject of wages could be better discussed after the end of the fiscal year in June when budget studies would begin.

Buildings Ordered Fixed Or Demolished

The Allegany County Health Department has served notice on owners of four properties that they must either repair or demolish the dwellings within 30 days.

Each report stated the dwellings were "unfit for human habitation." Two of the homes are on Omar Avenue in Midland, one on Porter Road at Eckhart and the fourth on the Shaft Mine Road.

Copies of the report to the owners were received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

A progress report was made at a recent meeting of the organization and Yoder stated that sales are exceeding expectations and a sell-out is anticipated. Persons wishing to attend the dance, which will be held in Allegany High's new gymnasium, should purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

The orchestra, which is under the direction of Ray McKinley, will present a concert from 8 to 9 p. m., Yoder said, and the dance is scheduled from 9 p. m. to midnight.

The president announced that Harry Grimes has been appointed chairman of the club's sports committee.

TRANSPORTATION QUEEN CANDIDATES — Miss Cathleen Grubb (left), 1403 Bedford Street, and Miss Rosalie Femi, LaVale, are the two latest candidates for the Transportation Week Queen being sponsored by the Tri-State Traffic Club for the week May 10-16. Miss Grubb, 20, a graduate of Fort Hill High School, is a student at Frostburg State Teachers College where she is active in the Girls Glee Club, Maryland Singers, and editor of Class History. She was a May queen attendant. Miss Femi, 21, is employed by a local dentist and sings with the Peter Lukas orchestra. She was a cheerleader and appeared in several plays at Allegany High School.

County Boards Plan Periodic Get-Togethers

The boards of commissioners of Garrett and Frederick counties have accepted the invitation of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to hold periodical meetings to discuss mutual problems.

The idea for the meetings was advanced last week by Commissioner William A. Wilson of the local board. He said information received at a meeting in Washington several weeks ago when the county boards of several counties were guests of Rep. John Foley proved enlightening.

The county board yesterday approved the lease of the U.S. Naval and Marine Armory on McKaig's Hill for another year. The land on which the military installation is built is owned by the county.

A request for a permit for a junk yard on McMullen Highway near Rawlings was received from Florence C. Mills. She said she will operate a new and used furniture and appliance business and there may be times when it will be necessary to junk some items such as refrigerators and stoves.

She said there will be no junked cars involved in the business and no burning on the premises.

The board also cleared the question involved in the operation of a junk yard by Robert Klink. Leslie J. Clark, board attorney, said an investigation showed the junk yard was located about 900 feet off Winchester Road. He will not be required to have a license.

Heated Exchange At Board Meeting

There was a rather heated exchange yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners between John J. Rowan, board president, and Edgar D. Growden, operator of the Starlight Drive-in Theater on Oldtown Road.

Growden appeared before the board to inquire why the repairs to the entrance into the drive-in theater had been stopped. Rowan in no uncertain terms, told Growden that "I'm tired of you coming in here every meeting complaining. We've been trying to complete the work and have been hampered by rainy weather."

Rowan also said that Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, moved the equipment to a nearby road to do some work as it was impossible to continue on the theater entranceway due to pool of water in the section.

Growden said he had been trying for a year to get something done. Rowan countered with the assertion that the promise for the work made by the former board had not been carried out and the present board was trying to help him and had been bothered by continuous complaints.

Mason Plans Answer To Job Status

Cumberland's city recreation director will submit an answer at next Monday's meeting of the Mayor and Council to the latest proposal offered him to withhold carrying out his resignation.

C. Eugene Mason, city recreation director, was told following a lengthy meeting of the Mayor and council Monday that the position he held would be placed under Civil Service.

Among Mason's reasons for resigning, given at a meeting last week, were salary and security.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech yesterday clarified a report that wages were not discussed. He said the meeting was concerned mainly over the amount Mason could be offered.

But after the long discussion, the mayor explained that the council could not decide on a definite amount.

The commissioners felt, he said, that the subject of wages could be better discussed after the end of the fiscal year in June when budget studies would begin.

GOD-KING GIVES AUDIENCE

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — The Dalai Lama of Tibet Tuesday gave his first audience in exile at a function for members of his entourage and a group of Tibetan traders in Mussoorie, India. Dispatches to New Delhi from the cool hill resort town 100 miles from the Tibetan border said the Buddhist god-king blessed the crowd on the lawn of his home.

Buildings Ordered Fixed Or Demolished

The Allegany County Health Department has served notice on owners of four properties that they must either repair or demolish the dwellings within 30 days.

Each report stated the dwellings were "unfit for human habitation." Two of the homes are on Omar Avenue in Midland, one on Porter Road at Eckhart and the fourth on the Shaft Mine Road.

Copies of the report to the owners were received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

HOLLYWOOD

By Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Eve Arden's birthday was Monday, and she was given a surprise birthday party by her husband Brooks West in the county courthouse at Ishpeming, Mich., where she is appearing in "Anatomy of a Murder."

She and Brooks have just bought an original story, soon coming out in book form, called "Now I Lay Me Down to Speak." It's a story of the editor of an "Advice to the Lovelorn" column, and while she's giving advice, she's being analyzed herself because of her own personal problems. The Wests will do this comedy first in summer stock and later they'll make it into a movie.

The Russians aren't the only ones with whom we're doing some "cultural exchanging." The State Department is inviting Jeff Morrow and his wife Anna Karen to appear in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" for the South African Theatre Foundation in Johannesburg. Following the initial engagement, the company will tour for 12 weeks throughout South Africa under the auspices of the State Department. The great Lincoln is almost as revered in Africa as he is in the U. S. A., so the play based on his early career should win friends and influence people in Africa for us. Incidentally, Jeff's TV series "Union Pacific" has hit the top 10 in ratings.

Rosalind Russell tells me she likes the story and script of "Wild in the Country" so much that she has practically made up her mind she'll star in it for Jerry Walls. This is the story of J. R. Salamanca, and is a strong dramatic story—a change from Roz's comedies, but nothing could really top her "Auntie Mame."

Roz and Freddie Brisson go to Europe, first to London where he will cast "Gazebo," where it will open at a later date.

Then they go to Copenhagen to see Freddie's mother, Mrs. Carl Brisson.

Far from discouraging young new writers for the screen, the theme of both Samuel Goldwyn and John Wayne will be encouragement when they take the speakers stand at Sam's 5th annual creative writing award at UCLA Wednesday. This is the first time a star has shared the spotlight with Sam who each year gives a $1000 prize to the UCLA writer of the best story. I give Sam credit for his marked interest in young writers as the "hope of the industry" because there's been far too much cold water thrown on new writers for the screen. Judges this year of the more than 600 manuscripts entered in the contest are George Stevens, Billy Wilder and Ed Hartman.

Veronique and Gregory Peck hit the road again on May 19 to visit 11 cities in advance of "Pork Chop Hill." In each city one of the survivors of this disastrous battle will be the guest of honor. Out of 145 men who fought to take this hill away from the Communists, only 35 survived and 23 were uninjured.

One of the generals in Washington said, "all our friends and enemies should see this picture." It is a true story of the last battle waged while the Commies and the U. S. representatives were signing the peace treaty.

It's been nine years since Ilona Massey made a movie although she's picked off some nice awards for her TV work. But now the blonde Ilona is slated for Ben Bogeaus' "Jet Over the Atlantic." I'm sure Ben has an easy job. For the role Ilona plays is that of an opera star. At one time, you remember, she was with the Vienna Opera Company.

Gas Program Outlined To Rotary Club

Miss Peggy Quinn, a representative of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, told the Cumberland Rotary Club yesterday that natural gas customers here are drawing on a post-war construction program now totaling over $24,000,000.

Miss Quinn told the local service club that $2,500,000 of the total program was spent for lines in this area.

Some $1,100,000 was invested in nearby pipelines bringing gas into Cumberland. This includes the 18-mile line from Keyser, W. Va. to Cumberland, seven miles of new line moving gas into the south end of the city through to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and a new line in LaVale.

The balance of C&A's Cumberland construction expenditures cover "distribution" gas mains within the city.

About 80 per cent of Cumberland's medium pressure belt, which moves gas from the supply pipelines into neighborhood gas mains, has been rebuilt since 1945, Miss Quinn said. About 50 per cent of the present gas mains in Cumberland have been installed or replaced since that date.

Because of this expansion and improvement work, Miss Quinn said the C & A Company is able to serve 19 times more gas heating customers than it did in 1945.

Miss Quinn told how local industries use gas for processing, explaining that gas is a versatile and easily controlled precision tool.

Miss Quinn's costume, made from fabrics based on natural gas derivatives, emphasized the use of gas as a raw material.

Two Boys Win Scholarships To LaSalle

Two eighth grade pupils of SS. Peter and Paul School have been named recipients of four-year scholarships to LaSalle High School since they made the highest score in a competitive entrance examination held Saturday at the high school.

Brother G. Paulian, FSC, principal of LaSalle, said yesterday the tuition-free scholarships will be awarded to Edward J. Milbrada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Milbrada, 219 Fayette Street, and John W. Kreidler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kreidler, 312 Cumberland Street.

The two boys made the highest scores in a mental and general ability test which was taken by pupils of area parochial schools.

The scholarships will be presented to the two boys upon their graduation from grade school this year. Principal of the grade school is Sister Hilda.

Young Milbrada, who is a star scout in Troop 6 sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of the school, was also first string center on the basketball team in the CYO league.

Young Kreidler, who also is a member of the scout troop, played some football at school.

John J. McMullen, who has been chairman of the Upper Potomac River Commission since first appointed by former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor in 1940, has been reappointed by Governor J. Millard Tawes for a new six-year term starting May 1.

A new commission signed by Governor Tawes and Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan has been received in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. Mr. McMullen began his service on the commission February 5, 1940, when he was named to the remainder of an unexpired term. He has been renamed to full six-year terms in 1941, 1947, 1953 and again this year.

Dankmeyer Charged In Wife's Assault

Robert Albert Dankmeyer, 34, of 717 Greene Street was lodged in the Allegany County Jail last night on a charge of assaulting his wife.

State Trooper Joseph V. Stakem arrested Dankmeyer about 4:30 p.m. yesterday when Dankmeyer returned to his home. Trooper Stakem was called to the intersection of Bedford Road and Naves Crossroad about 2:30 p.m. yesterday when Mrs. Dankmeyer complained to the State Police barracks. He found that Mrs. Dankmeyer had been cut and bruised about the face, and she told him that her husband had assaulted her on a dirt road just off of Naves Crossroad.

The trooper waited on Greene Street until Dankmeyer returned home. He is expected to be tried this morning by Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti.

Mr. Mahaney is being assisted by William Yeager, Bernard Warren, Douglas Golliday, Daniel Fradiska, Clayton Gillum, Charles Crawford and Mr. Kirk.

The ladies committee includes Mrs. Esther Yeager, Mrs. Mary Small, Mrs. Joyce Kirk, Mrs. Virgie Lee, Mrs. Wayne Abbott and Mrs. Leo Shipley.

Gas Program Outlined To Rotary Club

Miss Peggy Quinn, a representative of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, told the Cumberland Rotary Club yesterday that natural gas customers here are drawing on a post-war construction program now totaling over $24,000,000.

Miss Quinn told the local service club that $2,500,000 of the total program was spent for lines in this area.

Some $1,100,000 was invested in nearby pipelines bringing gas into Cumberland. This includes the 18-mile line from Keyser, W. Va. to Cumberland, seven miles of new line moving gas into the south end of the city through to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and a new line in LaVale.

The balance of C&A's Cumberland construction expenditures cover "distribution" gas mains within the city.

About 80 per cent of Cumberland's medium pressure belt, which moves gas from the supply pipelines into neighborhood gas mains, has been rebuilt since 1945, Miss Quinn said. About 50 per cent of the present gas mains in Cumberland have been installed or replaced since that date.

Because of this expansion and improvement work, Miss Quinn said the C & A Company is able to serve 19 times more gas heating customers than it did in 1945.

Miss Quinn told how local industries use gas for processing, explaining that gas is a versatile and easily controlled precision tool.

Miss Quinn's costume, made from fabrics based on natural gas derivatives, emphasized the use of gas as a raw material.

Two Boys Win Scholarships To LaSalle

Two eighth grade pupils of SS. Peter and Paul School have been named recipients of four-year scholarships to LaSalle High School since they made the highest score in a competitive entrance examination held Saturday at the high school.

Brother G. Paulian, FSC, principal of LaSalle, said yesterday the tuition-free scholarships will be awarded to Edward J. Milbrada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Milbrada, 219 Fayette Street, and John W. Kreidler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kreidler, 312 Cumberland Street.

The two boys made the highest scores in a mental and general ability test which was taken by pupils of area parochial schools.

The scholarships will be presented to the two boys upon their graduation from grade school this year. Principal of the grade school is Sister Hilda.

Young Milbrada, who is a star scout in Troop 6 sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of the school, was also first string center on the basketball team in the CYO league.

Young Kreidler, who also is a member of the scout troop, played some football at school.

4 Ridgeley Boys To Get Certificates

Four youths of Ridgeley will be presented certificates this evening in recognition of being the top team in soliciting the most food and clothing for deserving families in a drive sponsored by the child welfare committee of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion of that community.

At 8:30 p. m. during the Teen Club dance, Mayor Charles H. Fryer will present the certificates to Jack Cornett Jr., Albert Murray, Jack Barncord and Edward Litton.

Police Chief Jack Cornett, chairman of the Teen Club committee will also be presented with a certificate.

The food and clothing was collected recently and will be used as a stockpile in the event of emergency. The food and clothing are stored in the Legion home.

Jack Galford is chairman of the child welfare committee and is assisted by Sgt. Robert Grayson, local Marine recruiter. Roland Showers is district child welfare chairman.

McMullen Renamed To River Board

John J. McMullen, who has been chairman of the Upper Potomac River Commission since first appointed by former Governor Herbert R. O'Conor in 1940, has been reappointed by Governor J. Millard Tawes for a new six-year term starting May 1.

A new commission signed by Governor Tawes and Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan has been received in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. Mr. McMullen began his service on the commission February 5, 1940, when he was named to the remainder of an unexpired term. He has been renamed to full six-year terms in 1941, 1947, 1953 and again this year.

Dankmeyer Charged In Wife's Assault

Robert Albert Dankmeyer, 34, of 717 Greene Street was lodged in the Allegany County Jail last night on a charge of assaulting his wife.

State Trooper Joseph V. Stakem arrested Dankmeyer about 4:30 p.m. yesterday when Dankmeyer returned to his home. Trooper Stakem was called to the intersection of Bedford Road and Naves Crossroad about 2:30 p.m. yesterday when Mrs. Dankmeyer complained to the State Police barracks. He found that Mrs. Dankmeyer had been cut and bruised about the face, and she told him that her husband had assaulted her on a dirt road just off of Naves Crossroad.

The trooper waited on Greene Street until Dankmeyer returned home. He is expected to be tried this morning by Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti.

Games and refreshments will be features of the evening, according to George Mahaney, general chairman of arrangements, who said the Ladies Auxiliary Unit will canvass the community for donations of home made candy, baked goods and fancy work.

Mr. Mahaney is being assisted by William Yeager, Bernard Warren, Douglas Golliday, Daniel Fradiska, Clayton Gillum, Charles Crawford and Mr. Kirk.

The ladies committee includes Mrs. Esther Yeager, Mrs. Mary Small, Mrs. Joyce Kirk, Mrs. Virgie Lee, Mrs. Wayne Abbott and Mrs. Leo Shipley.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Hair Coloring That Comes Naturally

One good reason for coloring hair is that nature, oddly enough, sometimes begins to turn bright, pretty hair a less attractive color so early, while skin is still at its youthful best. Blonds often suffer very noticeable darkening and dulling when they are hardly out of their teens. So do redheads. And the prematurely gray brunette may be stunning, or she may be only gray enough for her hair to have a streaked and mousy look that contrasts sadly with the fresh color in her face.

With health and the best of care, skin can retain its young radiance for a long time, and since it often does, it would seem that hair should, too. Now that hair colors come in such natural shades, many women simply choose the color their own hair had at its best and return to it. This is very different from the daring step dyeing used to be, when there was almost no choice beyond near-white bleach, brassy blond, henna and unbelievable black.

There are also plenty of women who feel that coloring their hair, after all, is not too different from changing the color of their lips with lipstick, and choose a flattering shade their own hair never had. But again, they have natural colors to choose from and needen't look dyed.

Do I sound very approving of hair coloring? I'm for it when it honestly improves a woman's appearance, a possibility only when the changed color has a natural look. I can be for it because today's hair colors and coloring methods no longer damage the hair as dyeing once did, when the hair was left lack-lustre and straw-stiff.

But color must be chosen for harmony with skin tones — even a natural-looking red doesn't look natural except with a red-haired type of skin. The older woman should not return her hair to its brightest former shade — she needs a softer shade of her original hair color because her skin and eyes are less vivid than they were. And remember that there's no equal to the smartly turned out woman with a beautifully coiffed head of silver hair.

Be sure you know what color is most attractive for you, if you decide to try a new hair coloring —just as you know it's important to get clothes in colors that will flatter. Learn about the ideal combinations scientifically—check the useful, detailed information in my booklet, "Your Color Type." A copy's yours for just 25c, sent in coin with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to John Robert Powers, c/o this paper.

As I have pointed out on several occasions, the merits of the respective systems were not really involved in determining the outcome of the recent international contest. Where the Italians gained in some cases they suffered losses in others, and on the whole no superiority was established for one method or the other. A hand which worked out badly for the somewhat artificial method employed by half of the American team is shown today.

Stakgold was left to play the contract at two diamonds and with the unfortunate division of the trump was able to take only five tricks for a loss of 300 points.

In the method employed, this result was more or less inevitable inasmuch as this pair was barred from opening with a four card major suit.

However, taking only slight liberties with a system South might have raised his partner's spade bid to two. This they are reluctant to do because in many cases responder will make a one-over-one response in a major suit with a holding of only four small.

At the other table the Italians had no difficulty reaching their optimum contract. South opened, as would most of us, with a bid of one heart. North responded with one spade which South raised to two. Siniscalco, feeling that he had more than he might have had, rebid to three spades and Forquet carried it on to game.

Actually 11 tricks were made for a score of 650 points and the net gain to the Italians of 950 was one of the biggest swings of the contest. Translated into I. M. P.'s this gave the invaders 7 points.

Appointment In Ankara

Now that the blood-letting in Cyprus has ended, Greece and Turkey are hopefully trying to pick up the pieces of the old entente which a decade of name-calling and terrorism had very nearly shattered. The first in a series of top-level talks between the ancient partners and foes begins in Ankara on Thursday. The importance attached to the meeting is seen by the fact that Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis and Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tositsas will both be on hand to deal with their Turkish opposite numbers, Adnan Menderes and Fatin Rustu Zorlu.

Absent by anxious will be the pair's 13 partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Largely because of the Cyprus quarrel, NATO's southeastern flank has long been considered dangerously soft. Now, with renewed signs of Communist penetration in the Middle East, the need for rebuilding the alliance is more pressing than ever.

Resolution of the Cyprus dispute has not by any means eliminated all the sources of friction between the Aegean neighbors. Each country has a substantial and unassimilated enclave of the other's nationals. There are 100,000 to 120,000 Turks in Greek Thrace out of a total population of about 340,000 and 5,000 or so more on various of the Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean. (For comparison, there are 93,000 Turks on Cyprus in a population of 530,000.) Greeks in Turkey number only 90,000, but most of them are in Istanbul, where they are a potent commercial influence.

Despite these lingering tensions, Greek and Turkish diplomats are talking optimistically of reviving the era of good feelings which flowered briefly in the early 1930s and which led in 1934 to the Balkan Pact linking the two countries with Rumania and Yugoslavia. Thus Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito is sure to be another interested if absent observer of the Ankara sessions.

Changes In China

When the Chinese Communists broke with Chiang Kai-shek in 1927, the usual quarrel ensued between the Trotzkyists and the Stalinists. The original Chinese Communist Party was founded by Chen Tu-shiu, a professor of the Peking National University, who was a Trotzkyist. Many Chinese Communists had come in contact with Karl Radek and were under his influence. It was a party almost exclusively of intellectuals.

The group that prevailed was known as Chu-Mao, the Chu part being Chu Teh; the Mao part being Mao Tze-tung. Chu Teh was a military man and became the commander-in-chief of the Communist armies. He is now 73 years old. Although a member of a wealthy Szechuan family, he became a Communist in 1922 in Berlin, Germany, where he was a student. Since 1926, he has been the principal leader of Communist forces in China. His relationship to Mao Tze-tung is so close that it is impossible to say, as some reports have put it, that he has been demoted to fourth place in the Red Chinese hierarchy. It is more correct to say that because of his age, he has declined to serve as President of China, which is the second, not the first position in that country. In Soviet Russia, it is an unimportant, nominal position.

The changes which have recently taken place leave Mao Tze-tung the absolute head of the state. He will not be President but he continues to be the leader of the Chinese Communist Party, and like Khrushchev in Russia, he holds the top job. Mao is 65 years old and therefore was the junior partner in the Chu-Mao partnership. He comes of a comfortable Hunanese family. He was active in the Student Movement of 1919 and attended the first meeting of the Chinese Communist Party in 1921. With Chu Teh, he organized in 1927 the Red Army in Kiangsi Province, and eventually he established a Soviet government. When Japan attacked China in 1931, Mao offered to make a common front with Chiang Kai-shek against the Japanese and by this trick, he managed to have the Communist armies armed by Chiang.

Mao is astute in his political manipulations, is very close to the Kremlin and carries out Soviet imperialism in Asia. His control of the Chinese Communist Party is absolute and his influence extends to the entire Soviet Universal State.

Liu Shao-chi, who has been chosen to be President of Red China, is regarded next to Mao Tze-tung as the leading theoretician of the Chinese Communists. He is younger than either Chu Teh or Mao Tze-tung. He was born in 1905 in Hunan. He received much of his education in Russia and was only 16 years old when he joined the Socialist Youth Group which was a forerunner of the Chinese Communist Party. Of all the present Chinese Communist leaders, he is the most proletarian and the one most closely associated with labor movements. He has been associated with the Chinese Communist Party from its inception and with the labor union movement in China since its inception. Of the four top men in the Communist hierarchy in China, that is, Mao Tze-tung, Chu Teh, Liu Shao-chi and Chou En-lai, Liu is the youngest and the only one who is not an intellectual but comes directly out of the working class.

Chou En-lai, who remains Prime Minister, is 63 years old. He was educated at Nankai University in Tientsin and in France. In fact, he joined the Chinese Communist Party while in France. After his return to China, he worked under Chiang Kai-shek at the Whampoa Military Academy and at one time, it was assumed by many that Chou might end up as a Nationalist. His family was wealthy. For some time, he served as a bridge between the Communists and the Nationalists but eventually his party loyalty and affiliation were clarified. He is undoubtedly the most competent man in the hierarchy to deal with foreigners and is generally used for such purposes. He has been able to hoodwink Americans in China, particularly during the period of General George Marshall and General Joe Stilwell who were convinced that Chinese Communists were not Communists by agrarian reformers.

These four men are the top layer of Chinese Communists but the pinnacle remains Mao Tze-tung. As in Russia, so-called "Democratic Centralism," the Communist form of government, results in dictatorship.

Battle Over Clare Luce Revives Women-In-Government Debate

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There is nothing like a beautiful lady to upset the equanimity of Senators, the poise of diplomats, and sometimes the peace of the world.

This has been true from the days of Helen of Troy to the era of Clare Boothe Luce. As a result Washington has been getting a greater kick out of L'affaire Luce vs. Morse than the revolt in Panama, the crisis over Berlin, or even the fact that Ike was barred from the Gettysburg Golf Course unless he walked.

Actually L'affaire Luce goes much deeper than the battle of a brilliant, beautiful woman, backed by the most powerful magazine empire in the world, to become Ambassador to Brazil. It gets down to the question of how well women serve as diplomats or in Congress or might serve some day in the White House.

It is no secret that lady politicians, both Republican and Democrat, have tried to nominate one of their sex for vice president during the last two conventions, and that some politicians considered Mrs. Luce's brief Brazilian service, to be for barely more than a year, as a steppingstone for her Vice-Presidential nomination. As a Catholic, it was believed she could counteract the vote-pulling powers of Sen. Jack Kennedy, Democrat.

The fact is that Mrs. Luce served competently and courageously in the House of Representatives. Furthermore, her voting record, ironically, was pretty much the same as that of Sen. Wayne Morse. She was a fighting, intelligent liberal.

Pedestrian Congresswomen

Most other women serving in Congress have been unglamorous and pedestrian. They try to be too masculine, too much a part of the congressional machine which frowns on anyone who tries to be an individual. By and large, the ladies of Congress seem to be trying to live down that famous first Congresswoman, Helen Rankin of Montana, who wept publicly when called upon to vote the United States into World War I.

Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Republican, the only lady Senator, is quiet competent, respected. She seldom speaks, does her homework well, has shown great courage on such vital questions as McCarthyism. When she opposes anyone for confirmation, look out — as Jimmy Stewart, the Hollywood actor, discovered when he sought promotion from reserve Air Force Colonel to Brigadier General. Mrs. Smith stopped him.

Mrs. Marguerite Church of Illinois, Republican, is a great credit to the United States at foreign conferences; and with Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Texas Democrat, was the only Congressional representative on hand to counter Soviet parliamentary forensics at the Mexican presidential inauguration last December.

Mrs. Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland, Ohio, operates her Congressional office with the efficiency of one who is running for re-election every day of the year; has become an expert on African affairs and has helped bolster American prestige in that vital area.

Mrs. Edna Kelly of Brooklyn, Mrs. Gracie Pfost of Idaho, both Democrats, and others are a credit to their sex and to Congress.

There was also the elderly Congresswoman who at 67 fell in love with a 36-year-old Naval commander and suffered the embarrassment of having his wife sue for alienation of affections. This, however, can also happen to men.

Mrs. Luce's Emotion

Whether Senator Capehart of Indiana likes it or not, the temperament, emotions and mental condition of a prospective diplomat, male or female, must be a right of Senatorial scrutiny. Diplomacy is too delicate a game these days to be otherwise. The reports of a diplomat can change the course of our relations, can sometimes influence questions of peace or war.

Both Senator Capehart and Senator Morse could have discovered that Mrs. Luce has been under psychiatric care by reading her own authorized biography, written by Alden Hatch and published serially in the Woman's Home Companion November through January 1955-56, at the height of her career as Ambassador to Rome.

At the time of her divorce from George Brokaw and during the Wall Street crash of the Hoover administration, four of Clare's friends committed suicide, and "she became so despondent that she sought the help of a psychiatrist," writes her biographer.

Other emotional periods are frankly reported. "She who had never lost her nerve in physical danger was terrified that she was losing her mind," recounts Hatch regarding "a black shaft of despair" to which Clare dropped in late 1945. It was at this point that she returned to her original faith — Catholicism.

In Italy, Mrs. Luce did a brilliant job — after serious mistakes at the start. But she was so emotional, so intense, and so engrossed in her work that again she suffered embarrassing incidents which, had she been a man, might have led to her recall. Most notable was her opposition to the election of President Gronchi and her public tears in the diplomatic gallery of Parliament when he was elected.

Brilliance is frequently wrapped up in emotion. And when, after three years in Italy, the embassy staff presented Clare with a gold medallion, she broke into tears. Try as she could, she was not able to stop weeping. So her husband suggested that the time had come to go back to New York for a physical check-up. This was what led to Mrs. Luce's retirement from diplomacy.

Reflections On Churchill And Paris In 1919

By David Lawrence

PARIS, May 5 — What memories Winston Churchill can bring to Washington this week! If he is philosophically inclined, he can point up the fallacies of our times in terms of the lessons of history.

Just 40 years ago in Paris, while writing about the Peace Conference, this correspondent learned about the already famous British statesman who had occupied during the latter days of World War I the position of First Lord of the Admiralty, corresponding to Secretary of the Navy in the United States. Alongside him was another young man —Franklin D. Roosevelt, then Assistant Secretary of the Navy —who spent much of his time in London working out the details of the all-important blockade of the English Channel against enemy submarines. Mr. Roosevelt was proud of that assignment and of what was accomplished, and he once talked to me at a luncheon in the White House about the true significance of that military maneuver which helped to shorten World War I.

But, going back before that war to the days of 1912, the newspapers were filled with comments about Mr. Churchill's suggestion of a "naval holiday." It was my first experience with the concept that armament might be limited by international agreement. The proposal, of course, failed because the dictatorship in Berlin then wouldn't agree, just as there is no chance of agreement today with the dictatorship in Moscow.

Over the years "bold and imaginative ideas" have been many, and, when World War I ended and President Wilson came to France, some of us mistook the thunderous applause on the boulevards of Paris as a sign that the world was ready for idealism and mutual trust.

Oddly enough, the big discussion then was between a system of rival alliances or a "balance of power," on the one hand, and a universal system of League of Nations to be governed by international law, on the other. There were doubts expressed then by the British and the French that any league could succeed, but they bowed to the American President in a gesture of gratitude over what the United States had done to ensure victory by way of military sacrifice and economic aid during World War I. But it was the American Senate, led by Republicans of the "isolationist" school which prevented American entry into the League of Nations.

Maybe it was the difficulties encountered by this organization in the 1930s which led Winston Churchill, when World War II was nearing its end in Europe just fourteen years ago this week, to suggest in an article in "The Saturday Evening Post" that perhaps there should be a return to the system of alliances and that "spheres of influence" might well be recognized. But the pressure for a United Nations finally prevailed in 1945, only to be superseded soon in large part by a system of alliances now known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, on one side, and, on the other, as the Warsaw Pact set up by Moscow to form a defensive alliance among the "captive" countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Today it is a "balance of power" which again keeps the peace of the world, and, in a sesnse, the old European theory has been vindicated. But some of the newer ideas show signs of even bigger momentum. Thus, President Wilson proclaimed the ideal of "self-determination" for all nations, and this tended to encourage the smaller countries to gain their independence from the big powers. The sentiment persists today in Africa and in Asia as nationalism moves on painfully, though persistently, to achieve its ends.

Unfortunately, many of the new nations are helpless pawns in the hands of a big power—The Soviet Union—and this in turn has only brought the need for more alliances and regional combinations that in theory at least violate the spirit of any effective system of international organization such as it was hoped the United Nations would become. Two paragraphs from the dispatches I wrote from Paris in 1919 struck my eye as I reread my scrapbook the other day:

"The British do not believe that a perfect system is obtainable immediately and desire to bring about a common concert or council, possibly through annual conferences of foreign ministers of all the powers for an open discussion of the problems affecting the world situation in the course of a year. The idea seems to be to accomplish, by annual or more frequent international conferences, transactions in world diplomacy, using the public opinion of mankind as the great background to keep the peace . . .

"Any move which means to treat the Soviet as de facto authority, as was proposed recently by Prime Minister Lloyd George —not as an act of condoning Bolshevist terrorism, but to give some central authority with which to deal effectively—means naturally deep antagonism of the anti-Bolshevist factions which are struggling to overthrow the Soviet. The leaders of the armies fighting the Soviets are appealing for arms and ammunition, not allied forces, as necessary, but this policy is beset with many dangers, too, because of the ease with which the cry of intervention can be raised as a means of antagonizing people against the Allies."

So the problem presented not so long ago in Hungary and even today in Tibet is much the same as it used to be. The underlying hostility against dictatorships and the enslavement of whole nations of people remains in a world that is still far from peaceful after two world wars.

Maybe also Sir Winston will soliloquize on the strange vicissitudes of life. For on his 25th birthday, while a correspondent in the Boer War in 1900, he wrote to a relative in New York: "There is so much I want to do in the world and so little time for me to do it."

For Sir Winston, because of his father's frail health, never thought he himself would live to a ripe old age.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The Senate's big hassle over labor reform legislation has served to highlight a number of factors which will bear watching in the months ahead.

First is the apparent determination of many in Congress to win approval this year for some workable legislation to control the more obvious excesses of unscrupulous men in the labor movement. This was shown in a willingness to keep the measure from becoming so harsh as to alienate support of the bill by the better elements in labor leadership.

Fact number two is the Eisenhower Administration's more pliable approach to the legislation. A year ago, a large factor in Congress' failure to enact any legislation was the administration's stand for a strong measure or none at all. This time White House spokesmen in Congress are remaining on the sidelines so long as the measure contains a reasonable amount of constructive provisions.

Fact number three was the apparent deterioration of opposition in the House, where the big test on the bill will come. Last year, advocates of a "tough" bill, plus labor-supported members who wanted no bill, were numerous enough to vote successfully together to defeat any legislation. This time around, it is apparent that many tough bill advocates have been persuaded to modify their stand and that labor's leadership has softened the stand of others who have opposed any change.

The key to ultimate adoption of a reasonable labor bill lies in the House. If amendments to toughen the bill can be beaten and the bill kept moderate, there will be labor reform legislation this year.

Diabetic Children Need Strict Diet, Insulin

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Diabetes in children is likely to be more severe than it is in adults. The majority of these youngsters receive prompt care because the typical manifestations develop rapidly. This alerts most parents and they recognize that all is not well at the beginning of the disease.

Early signs of diabetes are polyphagia, polydipsia, and polyuria — in other words, increased appetite, increased thirst, and increased urination. The latter may manifest itself as bed-wetting in children; and a likely indication of polydipsia is a marked desire for cokes, milk, and other liquids.

All growing children are hungry and eat as though they had a hollow leg. The diabetic boy or girl is no different, but loses weight instead of gaining it. When this occurs, most parents are concerned and bring the child to the family doctor.

These youngsters have severe diabetes and need insulin and a strict diet to survive. This regimen is not always easy to sell except in the older or more serious and emotionally mature child. Their hunger knows no bounds and many goodies are not on their list.

The small fry resent being different — they want to go along with the crowd. It is difficult to pass up candy, hot dogs, and soft drinks when others are ordering them. In addition, getting a daily insulin injection is no fun. (Dr. Van Dellen has a list of books on diabetes that he will send if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

The new anti-diabetic pills usually are not effective in child diabetics. But they do well on insulin. Before its introduction in 1922, their life expectancy was two years. We do not know what it is today. Many who developed the disease in childhood or young adulthood are still alive. They are thoroughly indoctrinated about the nature of their ailment and have accepted the fact that while treatment is a handicap, it is a small price to pay for life.

TOMORROW: A new remedy for gout.

SPLIT SOLE

Mrs. H. writes: My aunt has a slight split on the sole of her foot, with a stubborn callus surrounding it. Would you recommend a powder or a pad for it?

REPLY

Pads help take off pressure from the callus but they are tricky to put on. Best results are obtained when they are fitted by a physician who specializes in this condition.

OVERWORKED HEART

T. G. writes: What is hypertensive heart disease?

REPLY

The strain of having high blood pressure may cause the heart to enlarge and the coronary arteries to harden sooner than usual. When these changes develop, the individual is said to have hypertensive heart disease.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Algernon Swinburne was leaving his London club one evening, and looked for his hat. All the poet could find were four top-hats belonging to other members of the club. In a rage, he threw the toppers on the floor, and was doing a war dance on them when a hall porter came running up to discover the cause of the commotion.

"Where's my hat?" thundered Swinburne.

"Sir," replied the porter, "you had none. You told me the evening was so fine you decided to come without one."

"You are absolutely correct," agreed the poet, his anger vanishing. Then, looking at the ruined hats on the floor, he added, "I imagine the other gentlemen won't be using theirs, either."

Dr. Israel Weisfield notes that the jeep which carried the Third Army Catholic chaplain in World War II bore the inscription, "Bringing Up Father."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The first look around must be a painful thing to a young lawyer. His ideals are high, and he approaches justice as a poor supplicant. He thinks of her as an unapproachable goddess. He soon learns that she is not only approachable, but is guilty of dalliance with the lowest men in the profession.

Some lawyers stand by their ideals. They are found on the second floors along Main Street in ten thousand towns across the country. They are stooped, and slow of speech, and, when they pull a lawbook from a shelf, they blow on it and the gray talcum of mediocrity floats in the office air.

The kid must learn that law is one thing, justice is another. The two are not necessarily incompatible, but law comes first. In thirty years of reporting, I have known almost as many lawyers as I have human beings. Most of the criminal lawyers are honest about their golf scores.

I do not know much about civil practice, tax lawyers or corporate law. But I'm conversant with the florid faces under the snappy Stetsons in the county courts. These are the men in the dacron suits, the men with polish on their fingernails.

They know the route to the pressroom better than they know the corridor to the court. They are always on a first-name basis with reporters and are always ready to do a favor for a gentleman of the press. They smell faintly of after shave lotion and pinch bottle.

Most of them speak eloquently of the poor defendants they represent, but, in truth, few of them do the work on the case. They have a thick-lensed law clerk back in the office who researches the case, talks to the witnesses, hunts the precedents in law, and sometimes writes the post-trial motions before the verdict is in.

They riffle through the morning newspaper standing up, looking for mentions of their names and office addresses. They glow a little when they read about a woman in Indianapolis who got away with murder. This excites envy because a lawyer cannot advertise his talent except in unexpected acquittals or small raps for big mistakes.

Mine is a jaded view, I will admit. I think of a county lawyer as one whose sole goal is to free his client, no matter what the evidence. I see the D. A. as a lawyer who fancies himself in a fencing duel with the defense, and who, regardless of the lightness of evidence against the defendant, is out to convict, convict, convict.

The judge — and this too is not always true — is a man whose wife is certain that he should be gracing the Supreme Court bench, or the Federal Court, and who is not as much concerned with justice as he is with reversible error. He too has a tolerant nod for reporters because he learned long ago that one must live with them.

Sometimes, when the judge feels that he is not getting a sympathetic press, he will call a few of the boys into his chambers for a cigar and a drink, and a little chat about the case "off the record." He pours. He holds the lighter. He hopes that he is being a regular guy without appearing to slobber.

Justice — that's something else. A true appreciation of justice embraces not merely a reading of a law, but the spirit and the intent of the framers of the law. Sometimes, even the legislative bodies which frame the laws have less regard for justice than for a poor relation.

A high-minded Assemblyman or Senator may introduce a good law, but his confreres will amend it, dilute it, weaken it, attach riders to it, and nullify its nobility. The masters of ambiguity can bend a measure until, in effect, it says nothing about nothing in several thousand words. This is thought to be clever.

The first look around must be a painful thing to a young lawyer.

Many Chinese Communists had come in contact with Karl Radek and were under his influence. It was a party almost exclusively of intellectuals.

The group that prevailed was known as Chu-Mao, the Chu part being Chu Teh; the Mao part being Mao Tze-tung. Chu Teh was a military man and became the commander-in-chief of the Communist armies. He is now 73 years old. Although a member of a wealthy Szechuan family, he became a Communist in 1922 in Berlin, Germany, where he was a student. Since 1926, he has been the principal leader of Communist forces in China. His relationship to Mao Tze-tung is so close that it is impossible to say, as some reports have put it, that he has been demoted to fourth place in the Red Chinese hierarchy. It is more correct to say that because of his age, he has declined to serve as President of China, which is the second, not the first position in that country. In Soviet Russia, it is an unimportant, nominal position.

The changes which have recently taken place leave Mao Tze-tung the absolute head of the state. He will not be President but he continues to be the leader of the Chinese Communist Party, and like Khrushchev in Russia, he holds the top job. Mao is 65 years old and therefore was the junior partner in the Chu-Mao partnership. He comes of a comfortable Hunanese family. He was active in the Student Movement of 1919 and attended the first meeting of the Chinese Communist Party in 1921. With Chu Teh, he organized in 1927 the Red Army in Kiangsi Province, and eventually he established a Soviet government. When Japan attacked China in 1931, Mao offered to make a common front with Chiang Kai-shek against the Japanese and by this trick, he managed to have the Communist armies armed by Chiang.

Mao is astute in his political manipulations, is very close to the Kremlin and carries out Soviet imperialism in Asia. His control of the Chinese Communist Party is absolute and his influence extends to the entire Soviet Universal State.

Liu Shao-chi, who has been chosen to be President of Red China, is regarded next to Mao Tze-tung as the leading theoretician of the Chinese Communists. He is younger than either Chu Teh or Mao Tze-tung. He was born in 1905 in Hunan. He received much of his education in Russia and was only 16 years old when he joined the Socialist Youth Group which was a forerunner of the Chinese Communist Party. Of all the present Chinese Communist leaders, he is the most proletarian and the one most closely associated with labor movements. He has been associated with the Chinese Communist Party from its inception and with the labor union movement in China since its inception. Of the four top men in the Communist hierarchy in China, that is, Mao Tze-tung, Chu Teh, Liu Shao-chi and Chou En-lai, Liu is the youngest and the only one who is not an intellectual but comes directly out of the working class.

Chou En-lai, who remains Prime Minister, is 63 years old. He was educated at Nankai University in Tientsin and in France. In fact, he joined the Chinese Communist Party while in France. After his return to China, he worked under Chiang Kai-shek at the Whampoa Military Academy and at one time, it was assumed by many that Chou might end up as a Nationalist. His family was wealthy. For some time, he served as a bridge between the Communists and the Nationalists but eventually his party loyalty and affiliation were clarified. He is undoubtedly the most competent man in the hierarchy to deal with foreigners and is generally used for such purposes. He has been able to hoodwink Americans in China, particularly during the period of General George Marshall and General Joe Stilwell who were convinced that Chinese Communists were not Communists by agrarian reformers.

These four men are the top layer of Chinese Communists but the pinnacle remains Mao Tze-tung. As in Russia, so-called "Democratic Centralism," the Communist form of government, results in dictatorship.

Reflections On Churchill And Paris In 1919

By David Lawrence

PARIS, May 5 — What memories Winston Churchill can bring to Washington this week! If he is philosophically inclined, he can point up the fallacies of our times in terms of the lessons of history.

Just 40 years ago in Paris, while writing about the Peace Conference, this correspondent learned about the already famous British statesman who had occupied during the latter days of World War I the position of First Lord of the Admiralty, corresponding to Secretary of the Navy in the United States. Alongside him was another young man —Franklin D. Roosevelt, then Assistant Secretary of the Navy —who spent much of his time in London working out the details of the all-important blockade of the English Channel against enemy submarines. Mr. Roosevelt was proud of that assignment and of what was accomplished, and he once talked to me at a luncheon in the White House about the true significance of that military maneuver which helped to shorten World War I.

But, going back before that war to the days of 1912, the newspapers were filled with comments about Mr. Churchill's suggestion of a "naval holiday." It was my first experience with the concept that armament might be limited by international agreement. The proposal, of course, failed because the dictatorship in Berlin then wouldn't agree, just as there is no chance of agreement today with the dictatorship in Moscow.

Over the years "bold and imaginative ideas" have been many, and, when World War I ended and President Wilson came to France, some of us mistook the thunderous applause on the boulevards of Paris as a sign that the world was ready for idealism and mutual trust.

Oddly enough, the big discussion then was between a system of rival alliances or a "balance of power," on the one hand, and a universal system of League of Nations to be governed by international law, on the other. There were doubts expressed then by the British and the French that any league could succeed, but they bowed to the American President in a gesture of gratitude over what the United States had done to ensure victory by way of military sacrifice and economic aid during World War I. But it was the American Senate, led by Republicans of the "isolationist" school which prevented American entry into the League of Nations.

Maybe it was the difficulties encountered by this organization in the 1930s which led Winston Churchill, when World War II was nearing its end in Europe just fourteen years ago this week, to suggest in an article in "The Saturday Evening Post" that perhaps there should be a return to the system of alliances and that "spheres of influence" might well be recognized. But the pressure for a United Nations finally prevailed in 1945, only to be superseded soon in large part by a system of alliances now known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, on one side, and, on the other, as the Warsaw Pact set up by Moscow to form a defensive alliance among the "captive" countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Today it is a "balance of power" which again keeps the peace of the world, and, in a sesnse, the old European theory has been vindicated. But some of the newer ideas show signs of even bigger momentum. Thus, President Wilson proclaimed the ideal of "self-determination" for all nations, and this tended to encourage the smaller countries to gain their independence from the big powers. The sentiment persists today in Africa and in Asia as nationalism moves on painfully, though persistently, to achieve its ends.

Unfortunately, many of the new nations are helpless pawns in the hands of a big power—The Soviet Union—and this in turn has only brought the need for more alliances and regional combinations that in theory at least violate the spirit of any effective system of international organization such as it was hoped the United Nations would become. Two paragraphs from the dispatches I wrote from Paris in 1919 struck my eye as I reread my scrapbook the other day:

"The British do not believe that a perfect system is obtainable immediately and desire to bring about a common concert or council, possibly through annual conferences of foreign ministers of all the powers for an open discussion of the problems affecting the world situation in the course of a year. The idea seems to be to accomplish, by annual or more frequent international conferences, transactions in world diplomacy, using the public opinion of mankind as the great background to keep the peace . . .

"Any move which means to treat the Soviet as de facto authority, as was proposed recently by Prime Minister Lloyd George —not as an act of condoning Bolshevist terrorism, but to get some central authority with which to deal effectively—means naturally deep antagonism of the anti-Bolshevist factions which are struggling to overthrow the Soviet. The leaders of the armies fighting the Soviets are appealing for arms and ammunition, not allied forces, as necessary, but this policy is beset with many dangers, too, because of the ease with which the cry of intervention can be raised as a means of antagonizing people against the Allies."

So the problem presented not so long ago in Hungary and even today in Tibet is much the same as it used to be. The underlying hostility against dictatorships and the enslavement of whole nations of people remains in a world that is still far from peaceful after two world wars.

Maybe also Sir Winston will soliloquize on the strange vicissitudes of life. For on his 25th birthday, while a correspondent in the Boer War in 1900, he wrote to a relative in New York: "There is so much I want to do in the world and so little time for me to do it."

For Sir Winston, because of his father's frail health, never thought he himself would live to a ripe old age.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The Senate's big hassle over labor reform legislation has served to highlight a number of factors which will bear watching in the months ahead.

First is the apparent determination of many in Congress to win approval this year for some workable legislation to control the more obvious excesses of unscrupulous men in the labor movement. This was shown in a willingness to keep the measure from becoming so harsh as to alienate support of the bill by the better elements in labor leadership.

Fact number two is the Eisenhower Administration's more pliable approach to the legislation. A year ago, a large factor in Congress' failure to enact any legislation was the administration's stand for a strong measure or none at all. This time White House spokesmen in Congress are remaining on the sidelines so long as the measure contains a reasonable amount of constructive provisions.

Fact number three was the apparent deterioration of opposition in the House, where the big test on the bill will come. Last year, advocates of a "tough" bill, plus labor-supported members who wanted no bill, were numerous enough to vote successfully together to defeat any legislation. This time around, it is apparent that many tough bill advocates have been persuaded to modify their stand and that labor's leadership has softened the stand of others who have opposed any change.

The key to ultimate adoption of a reasonable labor bill lies in the House. If amendments to toughen the bill can be beaten and the bill kept moderate, there will be labor reform legislation this year.

Diabetic Children Need Strict Diet, Insulin

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Diabetes in children is likely to be more severe than it is in adults. The majority of these youngsters receive prompt care because the typical manifestations develop rapidly. This alerts most parents and they recognize that all is not well at the beginning of the disease.

Early signs of diabetes are polyphagia, polydipsia, and polyuria — in other words, increased appetite, increased thirst, and increased urination. The latter may manifest itself as bed-wetting in children; and a likely indication of polydipsia is a marked desire for cokes, milk, and other liquids.

All growing children are hungry and eat as though they had a hollow leg. The diabetic boy or girl is no different, but loses weight instead of gaining it. When this occurs, most parents are concerned and bring the child to the family doctor.

These youngsters have severe diabetes and need insulin and a strict diet to survive. This regimen is not always easy to sell except in the older or more serious and emotionally mature child. Their hunger knows no bounds and many goodies are not on their list.

The small fry resent being different — they want to go along with the crowd. It is difficult to pass up candy, hot dogs, and soft drinks when others are ordering them. In addition, getting a daily insulin injection is no fun. (Dr. Van Dellen has a list of books on diabetes that he will send if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

The new anti-diabetic pills usually are not effective in child diabetics. But they do well on insulin. Before its introduction in 1922, their life expectancy was two years. We do not know what it is today. Many who developed the disease in childhood or young adulthood are still alive. They are thoroughly indoctrinated about the nature of their ailment and have accepted the fact that while treatment is a handicap, it is a small price to pay for life.

TOMORROW: A new remedy for gout.

SPLIT SOLE

Mrs. H. writes: My aunt has a slight split on the sole of her foot, with a stubborn callus surrounding it. Would you recommend a powder or a pad for it?

REPLY

Pads help take off pressure from the callus but they are tricky to put on. Best results are obtained when they are fitted by a physician who specializes in this condition.

OVERWORKED HEART

T. G. writes: What is hypertensive heart disease?

REPLY

The strain of having high blood pressure may cause the heart to enlarge and the coronary arteries to harden sooner than usual. When these changes develop, the individual is said to have hypertensive heart disease.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

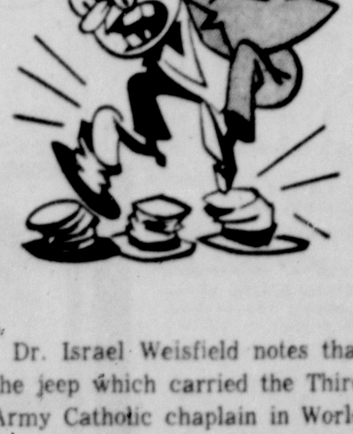
By Bennett Cerf

Algernon Swinburne was leaving his London club one evening, and looked for his hat. All the poet could find were four top-hats belonging to other members of the club. In a rage, he threw the toppers on the floor, and was doing a war dance on them when a hall porter came running up to discover the cause of the commotion.

"Where's my hat?" thundered Swinburne.

"Sir," replied the porter, "you had none. You told me the evening was so fine you decided to come without one."

"You are absolutely correct," agreed the poet, his anger vanishing. Then, looking at the ruined hats on the floor, he added, "I imagine the other gentlemen won't be using theirs, either."



Dr. Israel Weisfield notes that the jeep which carried the Third Army Catholic chaplain in World War II bore the inscription, "Bringing Up Father."

Battle Over Clare Luce Revives Women-In-Government Debate

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There is nothing like a beautiful lady to upset the equanimity of Senators, the poise of diplomats, and sometimes the peace of the world.

This has been true from the days of Helen of Troy to the era of Clare Boothe Luce. As a result Washington has been getting a greater kick out of L'affaire Luce vs. Morse than the revolt in Panama, the crisis over Berlin, or even the fact that Ike was barred from the Gettysburg Golf Course unless he walked.

Actually L'affaire Luce goes much deeper than the battle of a brilliant, beautiful woman, backed by the most powerful magazine empire in the world, to become Ambassador to Brazil. It gets down to the question of how well women serve as diplomats or in Congress or might serve some day in the White House.

It is no secret that lady politicians, both Republican and Democrat, have tried to nominate one of their sex for vice president during the last two conventions, and that some politicians considered Mrs. Luce's brief Brazilian service, to be for barely more than a year, as a steppingstone for her Vice-Presidential nomination. As a Catholic, it was believed she could counteract the vote-pulling powers of Sen. Jack Kennedy, Democrat.

The fact is that Mrs. Luce served competently and courageously in the House of Representatives. Furthermore, her voting record, ironically, was pretty much the same as that of Sen. Wayne Morse. She was a fighting, intelligent liberal.

Pedestrian Congresswomen

Most other women serving in Congress have been unglamorous and pedestrian. They try to be too masculine, too much a part of the congressional machine which frowns on anyone who tries to be an individual. By and large, the ladies of Congress seem to be trying to live down that famous first Congresswoman, Helen Rankin of Montana, who wept publicly when called upon to vote the United States into World War I.

Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Republican, the only lady Senator, is quiet competent, respected. She seldom speaks, does her homework well, has shown great courage on such vital questions as McCarthyism. When she opposes anyone for confirmation, look out — as Jimmy Stewart, the Hollywood actor, discovered when he sought promotion from reserve Air Force Colonel to Brigadier General. Mrs. Smith stopped him.

Mrs. Marguerite Church of Illinois, Republican, is a great credit to the United States at foreign conferences; and with Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Texas Democrat, was the only Congressional representative on hand to counter Soviet parliamentary forensics at the Mexican presidential inauguration last December.

Mrs. Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland, Ohio, operates her Congressional office with the efficiency of one who is running for re-election every day of the year; has become an expert on African affairs and has helped bolster American prestige in that vital area.

Mrs. Edna Kelly of Brooklyn, Mrs. Gracie Pfost of Idaho, both Democrats, and others are a credit to their sex and to Congress.

There was also the elderly Congresswoman who at 67 fell in love with a 36-year-old Naval commander and suffered the embarrassment of having his wife sue for alienation of affections. This, however, can also happen to men.

Mrs. Luce's Emotion

Whether Senator Capehart of Indiana likes it or not, the temperament, emotions and mental condition of a prospective diplomat, male or female, must be a right of Senatorial scrutiny. Diplomacy is too delicate a game these days to be otherwise. The reports of a diplomat can change the course of our relations, can sometimes influence questions of peace or war.

Both Senator Capehart and Senator Morse could have discovered that Mrs. Luce has been under psychiatric care by reading her own authorized biography, written by Alden Hatch and published serially in the Woman's Home Companion November through January 1955-56, at the height of her career as Ambassador to Rome.

At the time of her divorce from George Brokaw and during the Wall Street crash of the Hoover administration, four of Clare's friends committed suicide, and "she became so despondent that she sought the help of a psychiatrist," writes her biographer.

Other emotional periods are frankly reported. "She who had never lost her nerve in physical danger was terrified that she was losing her mind," recounts Hatch regarding "a black shaft of despair" to which Clare dropped in late 1945. It was at this point that she returned to her original faith — Catholicism.

In Italy, Mrs. Luce did a brilliant job — after serious mistakes at the start. But she was so emotional, so intense, and so engrossed in her work that again she suffered embarrassing incidents which, had she been a man, might have led to her recall. Most notable was her opposition to the election of President Gronchi and her public tears in the diplomatic gallery of Parliament when he was elected.

Brilliance is frequently wrapped up in emotion. And when, after three years in Italy, the embassy staff presented Clare with a gold medallion, she broke into tears. Try as she could, she was not able to stop weeping. So her husband suggested that the time had come to go back to New York for a physical checkup. This was what led to Mrs. Luce's retirement from diplomacy.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The first look around must be a painful thing to a young lawyer. His ideals are high, and he approaches justice as a poor supplicant. He thinks of her as an unapproachable goddess. He soon learns that she is not only approachable, but is guilty of dalliance with the lowest men in the profession.

Some lawyers stand by their ideals. They are found on the second floors along Main Street in ten thousand towns across the country. They are stooped, and slow of speech, and, when they pull a lawbook from a shelf, they blow on it and the gray talcum of mediocrity floats in the office air.

The kid must learn that law is one thing, justice is another. The two are not necessarily incompatible, but law comes first. In thirty years of reporting, I have known almost as many lawyers as I have human beings. Most of the criminal lawyers are honest about their golf scores.

I do not know much about civil practice, tax lawyers or corporate law. But I'm conversant with the florid faces under the snappy Stetsons in the county courts. These are the men in the dacron suits, the men with polish on their fingernails.

They know the route to the pressroom better than they know the corridor to the court. They are always on a first-name basis with reporters and are always ready to do a favor for a gentleman of the press. They smell faintly of after shave lotion and pinch bottle.

Most of them speak eloquently of the poor defendants they represent, but, in truth, few of them do the work on the case. They have a thick-lensed law clerk back in the office who researches the case, talks to the witnesses, hunts the precedents in law, and sometimes writes the post-trial motions before the verdict is in.

They riffle through the morning newspaper standing up, looking for mentions of their names and office addresses. They glow a little when they read about a woman in Indianapolis who got away with murder. This excites envy because a lawyer cannot advertise his talent except in unexpected acquittals or small raps for big mistakes.

Mine is a jaded view, I will admit. I think of a county lawyer as one whose sole goal is to free his client, no matter what the evidence. I see the D. A. as a lawyer who fancies himself in a fencing duel with the defense, and who, regardless of the lightness of evidence against the defendant, is out to convict, convict, convict.

The judge — and this too is not always true — is a man whose wife is certain that he should be gracing the Supreme Court bench, or the Federal Court, and who is not as much concerned with justice as he is with reversible error. He too has a tolerant nod for reporters because he learned long ago that one must live with them.

Sometimes, when the judge feels that he is not getting a sympathetic press, he will call a few of the boys into his chambers for a cigar and a drink, and a little chat about the case "off the record." He pours. He holds the lighter. He hopes that he is being a regular guy without appearing to slobber.

Justice — that's something else. A true appreciation of justice embraces not merely a reading of a law, but the spirit and the intent of the framers of the law. Sometimes, even the legislative bodies which frame the laws have less regard for justice than for a poor relation.

A high-minded Assemblyman or Senator may introduce a good law, but his confreres will amend it, dilute it, weaken it, attach riders to it, and nullify its nobility. The masters of ambiguity can bend a measure until, in effect, it says nothing about nothing in several thousand words. This is thought to be clever.

The first look around must be a painful thing to a young lawyer.

Keyser Edges Romney, Remains Only Unbeaten PVC Team

Dave Wilson Posts Fifth Victory, 5-4

KHS Takes Eighth In Row; Moorefield And Mathias Score

Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's Keyser High School tossers extended their winning streak to eight games in the Potomac Valley Conference by beating Romney High School, one of their chief rivals in the championship race, by the score of 5-4 yesterday at Keyser.

Dave Wilson, Keyser southpaw, and Bill Maphis, Romney's three sports star, hooked up in a pitching duel and the former emerged the winner to make his record 5-0 for the season. Keyser now is the only unbeaten team in the 14-school circuit.

Wilson scattered six hits and fired the third strike past 12 batsmen. Maphis also gave up six safeties but he issued eight bases on balls. The loss was the first against three wins for Maphis. It also was Romney's first defeat in five outings.

Jim Chidester garnered three of Keyser's six hits and Freddie Clark pounded a two-run homer to right-center in the second inning.

Keyser scored all its runs in the second and third innings and Romney closed with a three-run uprising in the 7th.

Toohey Notches Fifth

Lefty Bill Toohey registered his fifth win of the season against no losses by pitching the Moorefield Yellow Jackets to a 9-3 decision over the Circleville Indians at Moorefield.

Moorefield is now 5-4 and Circleville 2-3 in the league.

Toohey turned in a five-hit performance and whiffed 5. Larry Wimer, losing pitcher, lasted 6⅓ innings, yielded seven hits and gave up nine bases on balls.

Arbaugh of Circleville and Keller of Moorefield paced the hitters with two safeties each.

Riddle Whiffs 13

Mathias High posted its fifth win in six starts by downing Capon Bridge at the latter place by the score of 7-3. Jesse Riddle kept nine hits well spaced to notch his fourth victory against a single loss. He mowed down 13 Capon Bridge batsmen on strikes. Bruce Saville, Capon Bridge hurler, gave up only five hits and struck out eight.

A four-run explosion in the eighth frame decided the issue. A hit batsman, base on balls, three errors and a single produced the four tallies in the extra stanza.

Slonaker, of Capon Bridge, had a perfect day at bat with four hits in as many official trips.

Tiger Home Runs Sink Boston, 8-3

DETROIT (UPI)—Ted Lepcio, traded by the Red Sox only Saturday, smashed a grand slam home run against his former teammates Tuesday night to spark the Detroit Tigers to an 8-3 victory over Boston.

Larry Osborne and Johnny Groth also homered for the Tigers to back up Bunning's six hitter. Bunning wasn't especially sharp in winning his first game after four fruitless starts and had three balls on many batters but walked only three and fanned six.

It was Detroit's third straight triumph since Jimmie Dykes took over Sunday.

Lepcio got the chance to play when third baseman Eddie Yost turned up with a sore shoulder. Lepcio was called out on strikes in his first trip to the plate but singled the second time and then cracked his first homer of the year in the fourth off reliever Herb Moford to break up a 2-2 game.

Cubs Hand Bob Friend Fifth Loss

Altman Belt Helps Hobbie Triumph, 6-3

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — George Altman powered his third homer of the season into the upper right field deck in the sixth inning Tuesday night to help the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 and mark Bob Friend's fifth defeat of the season in six starts.

Friend, a 22-game winner last year who is still looking for his first 1959 victory, served up the gopher ball with the bases empty. The wallop supported Glen Hobbie's third victory.

Hobbie scattered six hits and fanned seven batters.

The Cubs scored three times in the second inning. They loaded the bases on Walt Moryn's single, Alvin Dark's double and an intentional walk to Sammy Taylor. John Goryl hit an infield single for the first Cub run and Jim Marshall followed with a two-run single.

The Pirates counted a run in the fourth inning on Smoky Burgess' triple that was followed by Dick Stuart's single. Pittsburgh evened it in the fifth when Dick Groat coaxed a leadoff walk and came around on Bill Virdon's groundout, Hobbie's wild pitch and Friend's infield out. Then Don Hoak walked, stole second and scored when Bob Clemente rolled to first base and beat Marshall's throw to Hobbie covering the bag.

Chicago added a pair of insurance runs in the ninth inning off reliever Paul Giel on Moryn's double, singles by Dark, Sammy Taylor and Goryl. R. G. Smith replaced Giel and finished up for the Pirates, retiring the side by fanning Lee Walls with the bases loaded.

The Pirates staged a semblance of a threat in their half of the ninth inning when Bill Mazeroski reached first after Dark dropped his high pop. With one out, Virdon singled and headed for second base but Mazeroski held up and Altman threw to Goryl at second. Goryl tagged Mazeroski and then threw to Marshall at first who doubled Virdon trying to get back safely.

Caseys Defeat Vets, Glassmen Shut Out Elks

Al Sheetz Victor, 4-1; Ritter's Tops Moose In Ninth

Al Sheetz won a pitching duel from Floyd "Pete" Elliott to give the Knight of Columbus a 4-1 decision over the V.F.W., defending champions; Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company skunked the B.P.O. Elks, 5-0, and Ritter's A.C. nosed out the Loyal Order of Moose, 4-3, in nine innings as the Rocking Chair Softball League opened its 20th season yesterday in games at Stitcher Field, Post Field and East Side.

A three-run rally in the third inning enabled the Caseys to open the season with a victory. John Esposito doubled in the second run of the inning and Norman Geatz's single produced the other tally.

The 1958 champs scored their only run in the fourth frame on Ronnie Cage's single, a two base error and wild throw.

Each team was limited to five hits. The only extra base blows were doubles by Esposito and "Butch" Johnson.

Thompson Baffles Elks

Bill Thompson pitched a three-hitter as Manager "Ike" Cessna's Glassmen triumphed over the Elks.

Pittsburgh Plate scored two runs in the first inning on triples by Jim Hinkle and Andy Lewis and Bill Byron's two-base blow. The Glassmen added three more tallies in the fourth on Bill Bratt's leadoff homer, a 313 foot wallop over the left field fence, Skelly's fielder's choice, and doubles by Bill Lawrence and Andy Lewis.

Lewis banged a triple and double for the winners while Roy Manges' two singles and "Whip" Kreitzburg's hit were the only safeties credited to the Elks. Byron made a sensational backhanded stab in left field of a line drive from the bat of Bob Pence, who pitched for the Elks.

Pinch Hit Decides

Marshall White's pinch single, scoring Fred Comer, who had opened the inning with a base hit, gave the Ritter A. C. a victory over the Moose in overtime at East Side.

Comer collected two of the winning team's 10 hits, one a three-bagger in the first inning. "Shorty" Long limited the Moose to three hits over the nine frames. Scores:

Phils Nose Out Cardinals, 8-7

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Ed Bouchee hit a bases-loaded single with one out in the ninth inning as the Philadelphia Phillies rallied for five big runs to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-7, Tuesday night.

The Phillies, trailing 7-3 after Robin Roberts was knocked out in the ninth when the Cards scored three runs, chased Vinegar Bend Mizell just when it seemed the big lefthander was about to win his fourth of the year. They continued the assault on Jim Brosnan and then won it at the expense of Larry Jackson.

Dick Farrell, who threw only one pitch to retire the side when he relieved Roberts, won his first game since last Aug. 8.

Wally Post opened the ninth with a single and scored when Harry Anderson doubled. Mizell was relieved by Brosnan and Willie Jones, who hit his fifth homer in the second, doubled to score Anderson. Dave Philley, pinch-batting with one out, singled bringing in Jackson.

Pinch - batter Bob Bowman then singled, and Richie Ashburn walked, filling the bases. Gran Hamner walked on a 3-2 pitch, forcing in the tying run and Bouchee then broke it up with his single.

Cleveland Wins Over Baltimore

Ferrarese Turns Back Orioles, 9-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lefty Don Ferrarese pitched a strong 4-hitter Tuesday night and his Cleveland teammates backed him with 2 big scoring bursts as the league-leading Indians posted an easy 9-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The Tribe banged out a dozen hits.

Ferrarese, once Baltimore property, held the Orioles hitless for 6 1-3 innings until Bob Nieman rapped a home run over the left field fence.

The Tribe wrapped up the game early with a 5-run first inning. Four more runs came across in the sixth frame. The Orioles made it easier by committing 4 errors.

Ferrarese hadn't pitched since April 26 but the layoff didn't bother him a bit. He gave up 3 walks in the first 3 innings and shortstop George Strickland booted a grounder, but double plays in each of the first 3 frames kept the bases clear.

Cincy Jerks Giants From First Place

Newcombe Scores Initial Win, 5-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Redlegs jerked the San Francisco Giants from first place in the National League Tuesday night as Don Newcombe won his first game of the year 5-2. He has lost three. Sam Jones was the loser.

The big power hits for the Reds were Frank Robinson with a 3-run fifth inning homer, and Frank Thomas, who tripled in the second.

Jones, who now has a 2-4 record, was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Newcombe tossed a sparkling 5-hitter. The only damaging blows were a solo homer by Willie Kirkland and a run producing double by Willie Mays. He struck out 3 and walked only 1.

Chicago Can Substitute Cash For Boone In Trade

Player Swapped For Simpson Is Planning To Quit

CHICAGO (UPI) —The Chicago White Sox can substitute cash for first baseman Ray Boone and can keep Harry "Suitcase" Simpson, adding left-handed hitting power, the two clubs agreed Tuesday.

Simpson, who has one homer in his two hits in 10 appearances at the plate this season, was acquired by the Sox for Boone in a Sunday dicker and reported to the club Tuesday.

But whether the Kansas City Athletics will get Boone or an undisclosed sum of money will be determined later. The decision is up to Boone, who left Tuesday for Omaha, Neb. He said he would contact Manager Harry Craft of the Athletics from there.

Boone, 35, threw a kink into the deal when he decided the time had come to retire as an active player and seek another baseball job. Under the original trade, the deal would have been cancelled had he failed to report to the Athletics.

Veeck and Boone met for two hours at breakfast and Veeck said "I don't think I was very successful in trying to talk him into reporting to Kansas City. He has three or four days to make up his mind."

"I feel this is the time to quit," Boone said. "I've got bursitus on the knee and that calcium has been building up. The knee's been troubling me all year. I had a long debate with myself before even going down to spring training."

"Baseball is a tough enough game when you're able to play it 100 per cent physically. This knee makes the whole thing look different."

Boone, whose home is in San Diego, Calif., said that if he quit the game, he would return there, but he would like to stay in baseball.

"Perhaps scouting a farm system for a major league club," he added. "I have no definite ideas on that at the moment, though."

Detore Replaces Dykes As Coach

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday named George Detore as coach to replace Jimmie Dykes who went to Detroit last Saturday as manager of the Tigers.

A Pirate scouting supervisor in the Great Lakes area for the past four years, Detore played the infield for the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics in the 1930's.

He piloted San Diego of the Pacific Coast League in 1943-44 and Toledo of the American Assn. in 1946. He returned to Toledo for the 1948 season after serving a hitch at the helm of Williamsport in the Eastern League in 1947. He later managed Salisbury (N.C.), Bristol (Va.) and St. John's (Canada).

He coached at Milwaukee in 1949 while the Braves were still in the American Assn.

Senators Blast Chisox Hurlers For 8-3 Victory

Rack Up 13 Blows, Beat Billy Pierce

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Washington Senators, even without Roy Sievers, blasted 13 hits off five Chicago pitchers Tuesday to whip the White Sox, 8-3, with Jim Lemon and rookies Bob Allison and Harmon Killibrew contributing home runs.

Lemon's blow came with Killibrew on base. Allison led off the seventh with his four-bagger, his third this season. The league leader in homers, Killibrew, rifled his eighth homer of the campaign—a 450-foot drive—into the center field bullpen to open the ninth. The Senator's major power hitter, Sievers, was sidelined with a torn shoulder muscle.

Billy Pierce, the loser, lasted only three innings for Chicago, giving up three runs, and reliever Bob Shaw was touched for one run on a walk and two singles. Rudolfo Arias, Turk Lown and Claude Raymond finished, Lown granting a pair of runs in the eighth on a single, a walk, a double and a sacrifice fly. Arias and Ramon each permitted one homer.

Chuck Stobbs worked six innings for the Senators for his first win against two losses, allowing five hits and three runs before he was replaced by Truman Clevenger.

Sherm Lollar homered for the Sox with Nellie Fox on base after a single which ran his hitting streak to 11 games.

Keyser Edges Romney, Remains Only Unbeaten PVC Team

KHS Takes Eighth In Row; Moorefield And Mathias Score

Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's Keyser High School tossers extended their winning streak to eight games in the Potomac Valley Conference by beating Romney High School, one of their chief rivals in the championship race, by the score of 5-4 yesterday at Keyser.

Dave Wilson, Keyser southpaw, and Bill Maphis, Romney's three sports star, hooked up in a pitching duel and the former emerged the winner to make his record 5-0 for the season. Keyser now is the only unbeaten team in the 14-school circuit.

Wilson scattered six hits and fired the third strike past 12 batsmen. Maphis also gave up six safeties but he issued eight bases on balls. The loss was the first against three wins for Maphis. It also was Romney's first defeat in five outings.

Jim Chidester garnered three of Keyser's six hits and Freddie Clark pounded a two-run homer to right-center in the second inning.

Keyser scored all its runs in the second and third innings and Romney closed with a three-run uprising in the 7th.

Toohey Notches Fifth

Lefty Bill Toohey registered his fifth win of the season against no losses by pitching the Moorefield Yellow Jackets to a 9-3 decision over the Circleville Indians at Moorefield.

Moorefield is now 5-4 and Circleville 2-3 in the league.

Toohey turned in a five-hit performance and whiffed 5. Larry Wimer, losing pitcher, lasted 6⅓ innings, yielded seven hits and gave up nine bases on balls.

Arbaugh of Circleville and Keller of Moorefield paced the hitters with two safeties each.

Riddle Whiffs 13

Mathias High posted its fifth win in six starts by downing Capon Bridge at the latter place by the score of 7-3. Jesse Riddle kept nine hits well spaced to notch his fourth victory against a single loss. He mowed down 13 Capon Bridge batsmen on strikes. Bruce Saville, Capon Bridge hurler, gave up only five hits and struck out eight.

A four-run explosion in the eighth frame decided the issue. A hit batsman, base on balls, three errors and a single produced the four tallies in the extra stanza.

Slonaker, of Capon Bridge, had a perfect day at bat with four hits in as many official trips.

Tiger Home Runs Sink Boston, 8-3

DETROIT (UPI)—Ted Lepcio, traded by the Red Sox only Saturday, smashed a grand slam home run against his former teammates Tuesday night to spark the Detroit Tigers to an 8-3 victory over Boston.

Larry Osborne and Johnny Groth also homered for the Tigers to back up Bunning's six hitter. Bunning wasn't especially sharp in winning his first game after four fruitless starts and had three balls on many batters but walked only three and fanned six.

It was Detroit's third straight triumph since Jimmie Dykes took over Sunday.

Lepcio got the chance to play when third baseman Eddie Yost turned up with a sore shoulder. Lepcio was called out on strikes in his first trip to the plate but singled the second time and then cracked his first homer of the year in the fourth off reliever Herb Moford to break up a 2-2 game.

Cubs Hand Bob Friend Fifth Loss

Altman Belt Helps Hobbie Triumph, 6-3

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — George Altman powered his third homer of the season into the upper right field deck in the sixth inning Tuesday night to help the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 and mark Bob Friend's fifth defeat of the season in six starts.

Friend, a 22-game winner last year who is still looking for his first 1959 victory, served up the gopher ball with the bases empty. The wallop supported Glen Hobbie's third victory.

Hobbie scattered six hits and fanned seven batters.

The Cubs scored three times in the second inning. They loaded the bases on Walt Moryn's single, Alvin Dark's double and an intentional walk to Sammy Taylor. John Goryl hit an infield single for the first Cub run and Jim Marshall followed with a two-run single.

The Pirates counted a run in the fourth inning on Smoky Burgess' triple that was followed by Dick Stuart's single. Pittsburgh evened it in the fifth when Dick Groat coaxed a leadoff walk and came around on Bill Virdon's groundout, Hobbie's wild pitch and Friend's infield out. Then Don Hoak walked, stole second and scored when Bob Clemente rolled to first base and beat Marshall's throw to Hobbie covering the bag.

Chicago added a pair of insurance runs in the ninth inning off reliever Paul Giel on Moryn's double, singles by Dark, Sammy Taylor and Goryl. R. G. Smith replaced Giel and finished up for the Pirates, retiring the side by fanning Lee Walls with the bases loaded.

The Pirates staged a semblance of a threat in their half of the ninth inning when Bill Mazeroski reached first after Dark dropped his high pop. With one out, Virdon singled and headed for second base but Mazeroski held up and Altman threw to Goryl at second. Goryl tagged Mazeroski and then threw to Marshall at first who doubled Virdon trying to get back safely.

Caseys Defeat Vets, Glassmen Shut Out Elks

Al Sheetz Victor, 4-1; Ritter's Tops Moose In Ninth

Al Sheetz won a pitching duel from Floyd "Pete" Elliott to give the Knight of Columbus a 4-1 decision over the V.F.W., defending champions; Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company skunked the B.P.O. Elks, 5-0, and Ritter's A.C. nosed out the Loyal Order of Moose, 4-3, in nine innings as the Rocking Chair Softball League opened its 20th season yesterday in games at Stitcher Field, Post Field and East Side.

A three-run rally in the third inning enabled the Caseys to open the season with a victory. John Esposito doubled in the second run of the inning and Norman Geatz's single produced the other tally.

The 1958 champs scored their only run in the fourth frame on Ronnie Cage's single, a two base error and wild throw.

Each team was limited to five hits. The only extra base blows were doubles by Esposito and "Butch" Johnson.

Thompson Baffles Elks

Bill Thompson pitched a three-hitter as Manager "Ike" Cessna's Glassmen triumphed over the Elks.

Pittsburgh Plate scored two runs in the first inning on triples by Jim Hinkle and Andy Lewis and Bill Byron's two-base blow. The Glassmen added three more tallies in the fourth on Bill Bratt's leadoff homer, a 313 foot wallop over the left field fence, Skelly's fielder's choice, and doubles by Bill Lawrence and Andy Lewis.

Lewis banged a triple and double for the winners while Roy Manges' two singles and "Whip" Kreitzburg's hit were the only safeties credited to the Elks. Byron made a sensational backhanded stab in left field of a line drive from the bat of Bob Pence, who pitched for the Elks.

Pinch Hit Decides

Marshall White's pinch single, scoring Fred Comer, who had opened the inning with a base hit, gave the Ritter A. C. a victory over the Moose in overtime at East Side.

Comer collected two of the winning team's 10 hits, one a three-bagger in the first inning. "Shorty" Long limited the Moose to three hits over the nine frames. Scores:

Phils Nose Out Cardinals, 8-7

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Ed Bouchee hit a bases-loaded single with one out in the ninth inning as the Philadelphia Phillies rallied for five big runs to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-7, Tuesday night.

The Phillies, trailing 7-3 after Robin Roberts was knocked out in the ninth when the Cards scored three runs, chased Vinegar Bend Mizell just when it seemed the big lefthander was about to win his fourth of the year. They continued the assault on Jim Brosnan and then won it at the expense of Larry Jackson.

Dick Farrell, who threw only one pitch to retire the side when he relieved Roberts, won his first game since last Aug. 8.

Wally Post opened the ninth with a single and scored when Harry Anderson doubled. Mizell was relieved by Brosnan and Willie Jones, who hit his fifth homer in the second, doubled to score Anderson. Dave Philley, pinch-batting with one out, singled bringing in Jackson.

Pinch - batter Bob Bowman then singled, and Richie Ashburn walked, filling the bases. Gran Hamner walked on a 3-2 pitch, forcing in the tying run and Bouchee then broke it up with his single.

Cleveland Wins Over Baltimore

Ferrarese Turns Back Orioles, 9-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lefty Don Ferrarese pitched a strong 4-hitter Tuesday night and his Cleveland teammates backed him with 2 big scoring bursts as the league-leading Indians posted an easy 9-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The Tribe banged out a dozen hits.

Ferrarese, once Baltimore property, held the Orioles hitless for 6 1-3 innings until Bob Nieman rapped a home run over the left field fence.

The Tribe wrapped up the game early with a 5-run first inning. Four more runs came across in the sixth frame. The Orioles made it easier by committing 4 errors.

Ferrarese hadn't pitched since April 26 but the layoff didn't bother him a bit. He gave up 3 walks in the first 3 innings and shortstop George Strickland booted a grounder, but double plays in each of the first 3 frames kept the bases clear.

Newcombe Scores Initial Win, 5-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Redlegs jerked the San Francisco Giants from first place in the National League Tuesday night as Don Newcombe won his first game of the year 5-2. He has lost three. Sam Jones was the loser.

The big power hits for the Reds were Frank Robinson with a 3-run fifth inning homer, and Frank Thomas, who tripled in the second.

Robinson Is Sent To Coast League By Baltimore Club

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Brooks Robinson, 21-year-old third baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, was optioned Tuesday to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League where Manager Paul Richards feels he will have a chance to play regularly.

Robinson, a recent Army dischargee, appeared in 13 games this year for the Orioles and collected five hits in 20 times up for a .200 average. He goes to Vancouver on 24-hour recall.

Baltimore still is one player above the 25-man limit which must be reached by midnight Saturday.

Player Swapped For Simpson Is Planning To Quit

CHICAGO (UPI) —The Chicago White Sox can substitute cash for first baseman Ray Boone and can keep Harry "Suitcase" Simpson, adding left-handed hitting power, the two clubs agreed Tuesday.

Simpson, who has one homer in his two hits in 10 appearances at the plate this season, was acquired by the Sox for Boone in a Sunday dicker and reported to the club Tuesday.

But whether the Kansas City Athletics will get Boone or an undisclosed sum of money will be determined later. The decision is up to Boone, who left Tuesday for Omaha, Neb. He said he would contact Manager Harry Craft of the Athletics from there.

Boone, 35, threw a kink into the deal when he decided the time had come to retire as an active player and seek another baseball job. Under the original trade, the deal would have been cancelled had he failed to report to the Athletics.

Veeck and Boone met for two hours at breakfast and Veeck said "I don't think I was very successful in trying to talk him into reporting to Kansas City. He has three or four days to make up his mind."

"I feel this is the time to quit," Boone said. "I've got bursitus on the knee and that calcium has been building up. The knee's been troubling me all year. I had a long debate with myself before even going down to spring training."

"Baseball is a tough enough game when you're able to play it 100 per cent physically. This knee makes the whole thing look different."

Boone, whose home is in San Diego, Calif., said that if he quit the game, he would return there, but he would like to stay in baseball.

"Perhaps scouting a farm system for a major league club," he added. "I have no definite ideas on that at the moment, though."

Detore Replaces Dykes As Coach

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday named George Detore as coach to replace Jimmie Dykes who went to Detroit last Saturday as manager of the Tigers.

A Pirate scouting supervisor in the Great Lakes area for the past four years, Detore played the infield for the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics in the 1930's.

He piloted San Diego of the Pacific Coast League in 1943-44 and Toledo of the American Assn. in 1946. He returned to Toledo for the 1948 season after serving a hitch at the helm of Williamsport in the Eastern League in 1947. He later managed Salisbury (N.C.), Bristol (Va.) and St. John's (Canada).

He coached at Milwaukee in 1949 while the Braves were still in the American Assn.

Senators Blast Chisox Hurlers For 8-3 Victory

Rack Up 13 Blows, Beat Billy Pierce

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Washington Senators, even without Roy Sievers, blasted 13 hits off five Chicago pitchers Tuesday to whip the White Sox, 8-3, with Jim Lemon and rookies Bob Allison and Harmon Killibrew contributing home runs.

Lemon's blow came with Killibrew on base. Allison led off the seventh with his four-bagger, his third this season. The league leader in homers, Killibrew, rifled his eighth homer of the campaign—a 450-foot drive—into the center field bullpen to open the ninth. The Senator's major power hitter, Sievers, was sidelined with a torn shoulder muscle.

Billy Pierce, the loser, lasted only three innings for Chicago, giving up three runs, and reliever Bob Shaw was touched for one run on a walk and two singles. Rudolfo Arias, Turk Lown and Claude Raymond finished, Lown granting a pair of runs in the eighth on a single, a walk, a double and a sacrifice fly. Arias and Ramon each permitted one homer.

Chuck Stobbs worked six innings for the Senators for his first win against two losses, allowing five hits and three runs before he was replaced by Truman Clevenger.

Sherm Lollar homered for the Sox with Nellie Fox on base after a single which ran his hitting streak to 11 games.

Mt. Savage High School reeled off its sixth straight victory at the expense of Valley High School yesterday at Barton by the score of 6-5 and retained its one-game lead in the Allegany County High School Baseball League.

Coach Joe Carter's league leaders were outhit 17 to 5 but the Black Knights were unable to hit in the pinches while Mt. Savage coupled its hits with 12 bases on balls and three fielding miscues to extend its victory string. The loss was the first in the last five outings for Valley.

Ron Cook got credit for the victory while Wayne Johnson was tagged with the loss.

Leroy Morris of Mt. Savage and "Tippy" Metts of Valley were the "big guns," each obtaining four hits in as many official trips to the plate.

A total of six pitchers saw action in the close game which Mt. Savage won in the 6th by rallying for five runs after trailing 4-1.

Ft. Hill Edges Campers

Fort Hill took a 2-0 lead in the race for the city championship by edging Allegany's Campers at Fort Hill Field by the score of 4-3. The Sentinels also remained tied with LaSalle for second place in the county circuit, each team having won five games and lost two.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team won the game in the 7th and final frame on a triple by Carl Puffenburger after Jim Kline got a life on an error and advanced to second base on John DelaGrange's sacrifice.

Fort Hill trailed 3-1 going into the 6th when Puffenburger walked, Jim Rice tripled and Jim Hammond singled to knot the count at 3-all.

Allegany's three runs were registered in the 5th on singles by Willetts and Evans, Joe Ranker's three-base wallop and Femi's sacrifice fly.

The win went to Johnny Price, who came on to relieve Roger Manges in the fifth inning. The defeat was Allegany's fourth in a row. Femi and Willetts of the Campers and Rice of Fort Hill garnered two hits each.

LaSalle is now 1-1 and Allegany 0-2 in the race for the city title.

LaSalle Trims Beall

LaSalle handed Beall High School its fourth successive setback of the league campaign at Stitcher Field by the score of 13-7.

The Explorers garnered ten hits, four of which were obtained by Mike Long, who had a perfect day at the plate. Bill Blake, LaSalle pitcher, helped himself to a double and two singles.

Beall collected a total of 13 hits with Bruce Smith heading the assault with four safeties in five official trips. McKenzie and McGowan garnered two hits each for the Mountaineers.

Beall sent six pitchers into action and the loss went to Wes Lashbaugh.

Aggies Drop Seventh

Flintstone High School's winless Aggies suffered their seventh loss of the season at the hands of Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High Bulldogs in a game staged at Westernport. The score was 9-3.

Ken Shockey, who started on the rubber for Bruce, struck out five of the first seven batsmen he faced, and got credit for the win. Robert L. Wilson finished the game after Shockey had hurled 6⅔ innings.

Bruce was credited with 14 hits, including five for extra bases. Morris headed the attack with thtree safeties. The Aggies obtained four singles.

Yankees Suffer Virus Infections

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — More woes beset the slumping New York Yankees when Mickey Mangle, Ryne Duren, Tom Sturdivant and Marv Throneberry were ordered to bed Tuesday, all suffering from virus infections.

Each of the four players was found to be running a temperature and none will be in uniform for Tuesday night's scheduled game with the Kansas City Athletics.

"Looks like I'm under the player limit without even trying," muttered a glum Casey Stengel.

Mantle already had been sidelined with a bone chip in his right index finger but it was expected he migh be available for pinch-hitting duty against the Athletics.

The Yanks are the third American League club to be hit by illness this year. Earlier, the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox were victims of the flu.

MAYOR TOSSES OUT FIRST BALL—Mayor J. Edwin Keech tosses out the first ball as the Rocking Chair League launched its 20th campaign yesterday at Stitcher Field where the Knights of Columbus defeated the V.F.W., defending champions, by the score of 4-1. Mayor Keech's knuckler got out of control and the ball bounced several times before it reached the plate. Looking on in the background, left to right, are the managers of the teams, J. Suter Kegg, of the K. of C., and Cecil Grimes, of the V.F.W. (News Photo)

Joey Giardello To Fight Mims

Bout Set Tonight At Capital Arena

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joey Giardello and Holly Mims, each with a yearning eye on the partly vacant middleweight championship, collide Wednesday night in a televised 10-round at Capitol Arena.

Giardello already is exercising the accepted rights of a challenger. Tony Ferrente, who manages Philadelphia Joey, said he has a handshake agreement for his gladiator to meet Carmen Basilio in a title bout later in the year.

This assumes, of course, that Giardello gets by Mims and Basilio overcomes Gene Fullmer.

Basilio and Fullmer are expected to clash this summer for the National Boxing Assn. version of the middleweight crown, stripped Monday from Sugar Ray Robinson. The NBA acted against Robinson because he hasn't defended since regaining the championship from Basilio on March 25, 1958.

Joey has lost his last three fights, including a seventh-round knockout by Webb.

Mims, who dropped a decision to Bobby Boyd in his most recent showing, could help himself and ditch Giardello with a victory.

The fight may be witnessed over the usual Wednesday night TV hookup (ABC, 9 p.m. EST).

Shuffle Race Ends Today; Four Teams In 4th Place Fight

A battle for the fourth place playoff spot in the Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League will highlight tonight's program of eight matches as the regular season in the 17-club circuit draws to a close.

Golden Nugget (66-27), Woodmen of the World (65-28) and Frostburg American Legion (60-33) are certain of making the playoffs but there are still four teams involved in the battle for fourth place.

Hann's Tavern is now fourth with a 57-36 record but one game behind tied for the fifth spot are the Frostburg Eagles (56-37) and the Hi-Dee Bar (56-37) and only two games out of fourth place is the Purple Heart Club with 55 wins and 38 losses.

A special meeting of the captains of all teams will be held Friday at 8 p. m., at the Frostburg American Legion Home.

Here are the pairings for tonight's final games of the regular campaign:

Pocahontas at Hann's Tavern
Hi-Dee Bar at Fisher & Robinette
Owls Club at Golden Nugget
Southern Bar at Frostburg Eagles
Cumberland W.O.W. at Frostburg Legion
Cumberland D. A. V. at Frostburg Republican Club
Peck's Cafe at Corriganville Auxiliary
Outdoor Club at Purple Heart Club

Western Maryland Wins Track Meet

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Western Maryland expected a close one and got it Tuesday before defeating Washington College 67½ to 53½ in a Mason-Dixon Conference track meet for its first victory of the season.

Mark Diashyn contributed mightily to the losing cause, taking scoring honors with 24½ points with four of his team six firsts—both hurdle events and the 100 and broad jump, plus a second in the 220 and a tie for third in the high jump.

Western Maryland is now 1-4 for the season and the Sho'men 2-3.

Jack Leonard Posts Triple

Has Five Winners At Garden State

CAMDEN, N. J., May 5 (AP)—Jockey Jack Leonard took the spotlight at Garden State Park this afternoon winning three of the first five races. He did not ride in the feature.

The 18-year-old Renton, Wash. rider completed a $61.00 daily double when he scored with Santurron after Jouett S. had captured the first race. His next triumph came in the fourth race on Crafty Belle and he made it a consecutive double aboard Lubrette in the fifth.

Leonard now leads the riders here with five scores. He rode two winners for Ada L. Rice, his contract holder, on opening day, one being astride Talent Show in the $25,000 Valley Forge Handicap.

Jockey Howard Grant, the nation's second leading rider, had to wait through 22 races before racking up a win but he did it in the featured Lakewood Purse aboard the appropriately named Wait For It.

Wait For It was registering his second straight win and as the second choice of the 18,915 fans paid $8.60, $4.20 and $2.20. Brilliant Speed returned $4.60 and $2.40 while Mepet, Jr. brought the minimum $2.20.

Back of the top three came Jeriel, Quig Flame, Sybaris and Remus.

The winner of the day's main event is by Wilwyn, initial victor of the Washington D.C. International in 1952.

U.S.C. Wins, 35-2

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Southern California scored 25 runs in the first three innings off the same pitcher Tuesday in a 35-2, seven-inning rout of Occidental College in a non-league baseball game.

Side Kick, 25-1 Shot, Wins But Is Disqualified

BALTIMORE, May 5 (AP) — Ste. Joan, owned by Jouett Shouse of Washington, D. C., altered her style today be coming from off the pace to win the Lexington Purse at Pimlico.

Usually a front-runner, Ste. Joan was only fourth at the three-furlong pole but Jockey Karl Korte drove hard with his heels, whip and hands in the final quarter to send his mount across the finish a half length in front of Mrs. William R. Albright's Grand Opera. Joe Lipira's Martial Law was third.

Ste. Joan ran the six furlongs in 1:13 to beat a field of nine in the claiming feature.

Ste. Joan paid $7.60, $4.00 and $3.20; Grand Opera $4.80 and $3.40 and Martial Law $9.00.

A disqualification cost the long-shot players a big-price winner in the fourth race when Side Kick, running at 25—1 came home in front, only to be placed second by the stewards.

Jockey Colin Shaw, who finished second aboard Mr. Howard, complained that his mount was bothered when Side Kick came off the rail just before the finish. The stewards agreed and moved Mr. Howard up for a $7.00 win payoff.

Cubs Trade Smith For Randy Jackson

CHICAGO (UPI) —Third baseman Randy Jackson, traded by the Chicago Cubs to the Brooklyn Dodgers four years ago, was reacquired by the Cubs Tuesday in a straight trade with Cleveland for southpaw pitcher Bob "Riverboat" Smith.

Jackson has appeared only briefly with the Indians this season and was not a regular either with Cleveland or Los Angeles last year. Smith was near the bottom of Cub Manager Bob Scheffing's pitching staff. He was to be assigned to the San Diego farm club.

Mt. Savage High School reeled off its sixth straight victory at the expense of Valley High School yesterday at Barton by the score of 6-5 and retained its one-game lead in the Allegany County High School Baseball League.

Coach Joe Carter's league leaders were outhit 17 to 5 but the Black Knights were unable to hit in the pinches while Mt. Savage coupled its hits with 12 bases on balls and three fielding miscues to extend its victory string. The loss was the first in the last five outings for Valley.

Ron Cook got credit for the victory while Wayne Johnson was tagged with the loss.

Leroy Morris of Mt. Savage and "Tippy" Metts of Valley were the "big guns," each obtaining four hits in as many official trips to the plate.

A total of six pitchers saw action in the close game which Mt. Savage won in the 6th by rallying for five runs after trailing 4-1.

Ft. Hill Edges Campers

Fort Hill took a 2-0 lead in the race for the city championship by edging Allegany's Campers at Fort Hill Field by the score of 4-3. The Sentinels also remained tied with LaSalle for second place in the county circuit, each team having won five games and lost two.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team won the game in the 7th and final frame on a triple by Carl Puffenburger after Jim Kline got a life on an error and advanced to second base on John DelaGrange's sacrifice.

Fort Hill trailed 3-1 going into the 6th when Puffenburger walked, Jim Rice tripled and Jim Hammond singled to knot the count at 3-all.

Allegany's three runs were registered in the 5th on singles by Willetts and Evans, Joe Ranker's three-base wallop and Femi's sacrifice fly.

The win went to Johnny Price, who came on to relieve Roger Manges in the fifth inning. The defeat was Allegany's fourth in a row. Femi and Willetts of the Campers and Rice of Fort Hill garnered two hits each.

LaSalle is now 1-1 and Allegany 0-2 in the race for the city title.

LaSalle Trims Beall

LaSalle handed Beall High School its fourth successive setback of the league campaign at Stitcher Field by the score of 13-7.

The Explorers garnered ten hits, four of which were obtained by Mike Long, who had a perfect day at the plate. Bill Blake, LaSalle pitcher, helped himself to a double and two singles.

Beall collected a total of 13 hits with Bruce Smith heading the assault with four safeties in five official trips. McKenzie and McGowan garnered two hits each for the Mountaineers.

Beall sent six pitchers into action and the loss went to Wes Lashbaugh.

Aggies Drop Seventh

Flintstone High School's winless Aggies suffered their seventh loss of the season at the hands of Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High Bulldogs in a game staged at Westernport. The score was 9-3.

Ken Shockey, who started on the rubber for Bruce, struck out five of the first seven batsmen he faced, and got credit for the win. Robert L. Wilson finished the game after Shockey had hurled 6⅔ innings.

Bruce was credited with 14 hits, including five for extra bases. Morris headed the attack with thtree safeties. The Aggies obtained four singles.

Yankees Suffer Virus Infections

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — More woes beset the slumping New York Yankees when Mickey Mangle, Ryne Duren, Tom Sturdivant and Marv Throneberry were ordered to bed Tuesday, all suffering from virus infections.

Each of the four players was found to be running a temperature and none will be in uniform for Tuesday night's scheduled game with the Kansas City Athletics.

"Looks like I'm under the player limit without even trying," muttered a glum Casey Stengel.

Mantle already had been sidelined with a bone chip in his right index finger but it was expected he migh be available for pinch-hitting duty against the Athletics.

The Yanks are the third American League club to be hit by illness this year. Earlier, the Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox were victims of the flu.

MAYOR TOSSES OUT FIRST BALL—Mayor J. Edwin Keech tosses out the first ball as the Rocking Chair League launched its 20th campaign yesterday at Stitcher Field where the Knights of Columbus defeated the V.F.W., defending champions, by the score of 4-1. Mayor Keech's knuckler got out of control and the ball bounced several times before it reached the plate. Looking on in the background, left to right, are the managers of the teams, J. Joey Giardello To Fight Mims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joey Giardello and Holly Mims, each with a yearning eye on the partly vacant middleweight championship, collide Wednesday night in a televised 10-round at Capitol Arena.

Giardello already is exercising the accepted rights of a challenger. Tony Ferrente, who manages Philadelphia Joey, said he has a handshake agreement for his gladiator to meet Carmen Basilio in a title bout later in the year.

This assumes, of course, that Giardello gets by Mims and Basilio overcomes Gene Fullmer.

Basilio and Fullmer are expected to clash this summer for the National Boxing Assn. version of the middleweight crown, stripped Monday from Sugar Ray Robinson. The NBA acted against Robinson because he hasn't defended since regaining the championship from Basilio on March 25, 1958.

Joey has lost his last three fights, including a seventh-round knockout by Webb.

Mims, who dropped a decision to Bobby Boyd in his most recent showing, could help himself and ditch Giardello with a victory.

The fight may be witnessed over the usual Wednesday night TV hookup (ABC, 9 p.m. EST).

Shuffle Race Ends Today; Four Teams In 4th Place Fight

A battle for the fourth place playoff spot in the Allegany County Women's Shuffleboard League will highlight tonight's program of eight matches as the regular season in the 17-club circuit draws to a close.

Golden Nugget (66-27), Woodmen of the World (65-28) and Frostburg American Legion (60-33) are certain of making the playoffs but there are still four teams involved in the battle for fourth place.

Hann's Tavern is now fourth with a 57-36 record but one game behind tied for the fifth spot are the Frostburg Eagles (56-37) and the Hi-Dee Bar (56-37) and only two games out of fourth place is the Purple Heart Club with 55 wins and 38 losses.

A special meeting of the captains of all teams will be held Friday at 8 p. m., at the Frostburg American Legion Home.

Here are the pairings for tonight's final games of the regular campaign:

Pocahontas at Hann's Tavern
Hi-Dee Bar at Fisher & Robinette
Owls Club at Golden Nugget
Southern Bar at Frostburg Eagles
Cumberland W.O.W. at Frostburg Legion
Cumberland D. A. V. at Frostburg Republican Club
Peck's Cafe at Corriganville Auxiliary

Western Maryland Wins Track Meet

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Western Maryland expected a close one and got it Tuesday before defeating Washington College 67½ to 53½ in a Mason-Dixon Conference track meet for its first victory of the season.

Mark Diashyn contributed mightily to the losing cause, taking scoring honors with 24½ points with four of his team six firsts—both hurdle events and the 100 and broad jump, plus a second in the 220 and a tie for third in the high jump.

Western Maryland is now 1-4 for the season and the Sho'men 2-3.

Jack Leonard Posts Triple

Has Five Winners At Garden State

CAMDEN, N. J., May 5 (AP)—Jockey Jack Leonard took the spotlight at Garden State Park this afternoon winning three of the first five races. He did not ride in the feature.

The 18-year-old Renton, Wash. rider completed a $61.00 daily double when he scored with Santurron after Jouett S. had captured the first race. His next triumph came in the fourth race on Crafty Belle and he made it a consecutive double aboard Lubrette in the fifth.

Leonard now leads the riders here with five scores. He rode two winners for Ada L. Rice, his contract holder, on opening day, one being astride Talent Show in the $25,000 Valley Forge Handicap.

Jockey Howard Grant, the nation's second leading rider, had to wait through 22 races before racking up a win but he did it in the featured Lakewood Purse aboard the appropriately named Wait For It.

Wait For It was registering his second straight win and as the second choice of the 18,915 fans paid $8.60, $4.20 and $2.20. Brilliant Speed returned $4.60 and $2.40 while Mepet, Jr. brought the minimum $2.20.

Back of the top three came Jeriel, Quig Flame, Sybaris and Remus.

The winner of the day's main event is by Wilwyn, initial victor of the Washington D.C. International in 1952.

U.S.C. Wins, 35-2

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Southern California scored 25 runs in the first three innings off the same pitcher Tuesday in a 35-2, seven-inning rout of Occidental College in a non-league baseball game.

Side Kick, 25-1 Shot, Wins But Is Disqualified

BALTIMORE, May 5 (AP) — Ste. Joan, owned by Jouett Shouse of Washington, D. C., altered her style today be coming from off the pace to win the Lexington Purse at Pimlico.

Usually a front-runner, Ste. Joan was only fourth at the three-furlong pole but Jockey Karl Korte drove hard with his heels, whip and hands in the final quarter to send his mount across the finish a half length in front of Mrs. William R. Albright's Grand Opera. Joe Lipira's Martial Law was third.

Ste. Joan ran the six furlongs in 1:13 to beat a field of nine in the claiming feature.

Ste. Joan paid $7.60, $4.00 and $3.20; Grand Opera $4.80 and $3.40 and Martial Law $9.00.

A disqualification cost the long-shot players a big-price winner in the fourth race when Side Kick, running at 25—1 came home in front, only to be placed second by the stewards.

Jockey Colin Shaw, who finished second aboard Mr. Howard, complained that his mount was bothered when Side Kick came off the rail just before the finish. The stewards agreed and moved Mr. Howard up for a $7.00 win payoff.

Wide Irregularity Marks Slight Gain On Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market chalked up an official gain Tuesday, with the averages edging slightly higher, but the overall picture was one of wide irregularity.

Of a total 1,245 issues traded, 526 were lower, 487 higher on the day. Individual changes ranged between a gain of nearly 9 points in Motorola and a loss of 7 points in Bell & Howell.

Electronics as a group stood out on the upside, along with the chemicals. There was selling in the recently strong drugs, in some of the steels and miscellaneous issues.

As in recent sessions there was little in the general news picture to affect the market and attention was selective.

Turnover of 3,360,000 shares compared with 3,060,000 on Monday.

A rush for the electronics marked the final minutes of trading and closing prices here registered gains of 4 points in Zenith, 3 in Radio Corp., 6¾ Texas Instruments, 2 points or more in Beckman Instruments, Comptometer Corp., General Time, Hoffman Electronics, International Business Machines.

Thiokol ran up nearly 6 in the chemicals. Dow 2½, Union Carbide 1¾ and Du Pont 1¼.

Among drugs, Brisol Myers rose 3½ but profit-taking pared others. Abbott Laboratories, Vick, Smith, Kline & French and Norwich lost a point to two.

Steels were lower on balance as labor negotiations in the industry got under way. Youngstown Sheet & Tube fell more than 2, Lukens over a point. Among non-ferrous metals, Kennecott lost over a point.

Ford featured the motors with a gain of 1½ points but American Motors lost nearly 1. Among the tires, General Tire rose nearly 3, Firestone over a point while Goodrich fell 2½.

Rails lagged most of the session and closed with very little change except for losses around a point in Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk & Western.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Heavy last minute liquidation dropped wheat prices, and other grains were mixed Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat was off 1 to 3⅛; corn off ⅛ to ½; oats off ¼ to 1; new oats off ⅝ to ¾; rye off 1½ to up ½; soybeans up ¼ to ⅝.

Heavy commercial House liquidation dropped May wheat prices shortly before the close, and other whheat futures followed the decline. Earlier, May held above Monday's closing price on commercial demand and short covering.

Corn was firm early with commission house trading, but prices slipped when liquidation started in wheat. Export houses were reported buyers of July. Commission and cash houses sold.

Oats were easier, with cash grain houses buying the May. Soybeans were firm. An elevator-shipping house broker and a processor bought July contracts. May was bought and July sold at ⅛ cent premium for May. The soybean market was moderately active.

Outside markets were mostly easier. The range:

Wide Irregularity Marks Slight Gain On Market

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market chalked up an official gain Tuesday, with the averages edging slightly higher, but the overall picture was one of wide irregularity.

Of a total 1,245 issues traded, 526 were lower, 487 higher on the day. Individual changes ranged between a gain of nearly 9 points in Motorola and a loss of 7 points in Bell & Howell.

Electronics as a group stood out on the upside, along with the chemicals. There was selling in the recently strong drugs, in some of the steels and miscellaneous issues.

As in recent sessions there was little in the general news picture to affect the market and attention was selective.

Turnover of 3,360,000 shares compared with 3,060,000 on Monday.

A rush for the electronics marked the final minutes of trading and closing prices here registered gains of 4 points in Zenith, 3 in Radio Corp., 6¾ Texas Instruments, 2 points or more in Beckman Instruments, Comptometer Corp., General Time, Hoffman Electronics, International Business Machines.

Thiokol ran up nearly 6 in the chemicals, Dow 2½, Union Carbide 1¾ and Du Pont 1¼.

Among drugs, Brisol Myers rose 3½ but profit-taking pared others. Abbott Laboratories, Vick, Smith, Kline & French and Norwich lost a point to two.

Steels were lower on balance as labor negotiations in the industry got under way. Youngstown Sheet & Tube fell more than 2, Lukens over a point. Among non-ferrous metals, Kennecott lost over a point.

Ford featured the motors with a gain of 1½ points but American Motors lost nearly 1. Among the tires, General Tire rose nearly 3, Firestone over a point while Goodrich fell 2½.

Rails lagged most of the session and closed with very little change except for losses around a point in Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk & Western.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Heavy last minute liquidation dropped wheat prices, and other grains were mixed Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat was off 1 to 3⅛; corn off ⅛ to ½; oats off ¼ to 1; new oats off ⅝ to ¾; rye off 1½ to up ½; soybeans up ¼ to ⅝.

Heavy commercial House liquidation dropped May wheat prices shortly before the close, and other whheat futures followed the decline. Earlier, May held above Monday's closing price on commercial demand and short covering.

Corn was firm early with commission house trading, but prices slipped when liquidation started in wheat. Export houses were reported buyers of July. Commission and cash houses sold.

Oats were easier, with cash grain houses buying the May. Soybeans were firm. An elevator-shipping house broker and a processor bought July contracts. May was bought and July sold at ⅛ cent premium for May. The soybean market was moderately active.

Outside markets were mostly easier. The range:

Tawes Signs Bill To Change Racing Board

Vetoes Liquor Fair Trade Act

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Tuesday signed into law a bill reorganizing the State Racing Commission and vetoed one establishing a minimum price law on liquor.

The two bills, which had been the subject of recent public hearings, headed a list of 49 measures acted on by the governor and cleared his desk of legislation remaining from the 1959 session of the General Assembly.

He vetoed 22 of the bills before him, bringing to 30 the number he has rejected. He has signed 831, including 27 which went on the lawbooks Tuesday.

The governor's actions on the racing commission and "fair trade" liquor bills had been expected from his comments at public hearings on them.

Last-Minute Decision

He did not make up his mind finally on the racing bill until Tuesday afternoon, however. It will replace the present three-member State Racing Commission with a five-member commission June 1 and had been opposed by officials of all the state's race tracks except Ocean Downs, the harness track at Ocean City.

Tawes issued a statement saying his office did not ask that the legislation be introduced and noting that it received only 22 opposing votes in the House and seven in the Senate.

"I believe that as governor I should proceed with extreme caution before substituting my judgment for the will of the General Assembly on a matter of legislative policy," he said.

The governor used his strongest language on a piece of legislation yet in vetoing the bill to establish and enforce minimum liquor prices in all of Maryland except five counties exempted from the bill.

"Totally Foreign"

He had been advised by the attorney general that it was probably unconstitutional since it did not apply statewide, but Tawes said his reasons went far beyond that. He said it would be "totally foreign to our traditions here in Maryland" by eliminating price competition and hinted it attempted to circumvent a federal court ruling.

"I do not believe that I can close my eyes to the fact that certain of the principal manufacturers of alcoholic beverages and certain Maryland wholesalers of such beverages have recently been found guilty by the Maryland federal court of violating the Sherman Anti-trust Act, because of a broad-based conspiracy to fix and maintain the price of liquor within the State of Maryland by misuse of fair trade contracts and other means," Tawes said.

Other Bills Signed

Other bills signed by the governor included measures making it unlawful to show an obscene movie to minors under 18, requiring fire drills in all public schools at least once every 60 days during the school year, creating a development credit corporation for the

Oakland Dentist Describes Successful Jaw Treatment

BALTIMORE (AP) — An Oakland, Md. dentist told the Maryland State Dental Assn. Tuesday he has had considerable success in treating dislocation of the jaw.

Dr. Alvin P. Friend said he used an injection of sodium psylliate to shrink the jaw joint. Alcohol injections have been used in the past, he said.

Dr. Friend said people who throw their jaws out of place while talking, eating or yawning are usually suffering from subluxation, which he described as a self-reducing, incomplete dislocation.

Both subluxation and complete dislocation, or luxation, results in acute pain in the joint and obscure facial pain from ear to forehead.

Dr. Friend said that after giving the injection he advises his patients to remain on a soft diet for several weeks. He said talking or singing should be avoided until the dislocation is corrected.

Earlier, two Cincinnati dentists told the delegates that infection of the gum tissue is the most common disease of persons over 21.

Dr. Don M. Ball and Dr. Edward L. Ball Jr. said that the infection, known as peridontal disease, actually causes the loss of 80 per cent of all teeth lost by persons over 35.

They urged greater public education on the importance of mouth health, especially for adults, and on the need for regular and thorough dental examinations.

Coal Seam Found On Sewer Job

Crews Begin Work On Tennis Courts

Ledges of blue shale and a seam of coal were encountered during the construction of the Baker Street-Hill Top Drive storm sewer project which is about 75 per cent completed.

Crews of the Hout Construction Company had to resort to jack hammers to cut their way through the hard shale in the Sheridan Place area.

They also hit an eight-inch seam of coal while digging the line which began at Baker Street late in March and is now within 100 feet of Hill Top Drive.

It was reported that the work may be completed by the end of next week, barring bad weather or more rugged digging.

The $8,970 contract includes the laying of 520 feet of 18-inch sewer line and several catch basins. It will supplement existing storm sewers in the Hill Top Drive area, which have been too small to carry off storm water during heavy storms.

The same company yesterday afternoon began the construction of tennis courts in Constitution Park.

Sensabaugh Construction Company workers are making progress on the Little League ball park at Constitution Park.

Crews this week have been putting topsoil on the field, and will soon begin seeding and mulching the outfield.

North-South Skirmish Unit Seeks Quarters

C Of C To Offer Full Cooperation

Civil War muskets may once again be heard in the hills of Western Maryland.

They would sound off loud and clear many times a year if the North - South Skirmish Association, which is seeking a permanent home rifle range, were to locate near this Western Maryland industrial and cultural center.

The association has more than 1,000 members of some 50 teams located in 12 Eastern states. They gather periodically for "skirmishes" — rifle matches in which members fire authentic Civil War period rifle muskets in uniform and with all accouterments and colorful paraphernalia.

Will Hold Skirmish

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce plans to send a representative to Fort Lee, Va., this weekend to witness a National Skirmish and to get full details.

J. W. Waters, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, commander, wrote the Chamber of Commerce the association has been meeting on military bases but that its growth and spectator appeal cannot be satisfied much longer under this arrangement.

He said the association would like to locate near its geographical center, which would be in Western Maryland, western Virginia or southern Pennsylvania.

The region about Cumberland, he added, is beautiful and historic "making it desirable from our viewpoint."

He said the organization wants to be located near a city because of its convenience in handling both members and tourists who will be attracted to the events.

Will Cooperate

Mr. Waters said it might be possible to find acreage in a rather mountainous area that includes a level area of perhaps 600 by 200 yards.

The association holds spring and fall national skirmishes and a number of regional skirmishes.

Activities during the Centennial years of the Civil War, Mr. Waters said, should build up a traditional spectacle which should attract many thousands of people each year.

Robert C. Petersen, manager, said the Chamber of Commerce will offer full cooperation to the association.

Fire Destroys Garage Here

Two local fire companies yesterday evening battled a blaze which destroyed a one-car garage in the rear of 720-722 Frederick Street.

The side of a nearby home occupied by Donald Hoff was blistered by the heat of the fire which occurred about 6:22 p. m.

East Side received the first call, and minutes later radioed to Central fire station for assistance. The cause of the fire is unknown, firemen said.

Local firemen had a number of other calls during the afternoon. South End firemen quenched a grass fire at Sheridan Place after receiving a call at 2:03 p. m.

Firemen from Central station received a call at 12:47 p. m. and extinguished a flue fire at 216 Charles Street.

A few minutes earlier East Side firemen were called to Williams Street where a grass fire was burning. It was out of the city limits. Local firemen stood by until volunteers from District 16 arrived to put out the remaining fire. About three acres of land were scorched and the fire was eating its way toward a number of homes in that area.

Trash Collection Is Heaviest In City's History

The Street Department will formally end its annual Cleanup Drive today on the West Side but it will take all week to collect all of the trash being placed on curbs throughout the city.

Andrew Heller, street superintendent, said 14 city trucks had collected 99 loads by 3:30 p. m. yesterday but were still running behind schedule.

He said the collections this year are the heaviest ever and will result in a better looking city.

Mr. Heller said people of the city have cooperated fully in the campaign, and he pledged that all of the debris will be picked up this week.

Firemen Cancel Weekly Dances

The fire house hop, held regularly for young people at Bedford Road Volunteer fire hall, has been cancelled until the third week in June, according to Willes Wilson, fire company president.

Mr. Wilson said the weekly record hop has provided wholesome entertainment for a large number of area high school students, but with so much school activity planned this time of the year, the firemen have decided to cancel the activity until after graduations are over.

Tawes Signs Bill To Change Racing Board

Vetoes Liquor Fair Trade Act

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Tuesday signed into law a bill reorganizing the State Racing Commission and vetoed one establishing a minimum price law on liquor.

The two bills, which had been the subject of recent public hearings, headed a list of 49 measures acted on by the governor and cleared his desk of legislation remaining from the 1959 session of the General Assembly.

He vetoed 22 of the bills before him, bringing to 30 the number he has rejected. He has signed 831, including 27 which went on the lawbooks Tuesday.

The governor's actions on the racing commission and "fair trade" liquor bills had been expected from his comments at public hearings on them.

Last-Minute Decision

He did not make up his mind finally on the racing bill until Tuesday afternoon, however. It will replace the present three-member State Racing Commission with a five-member commission June 1 and had been opposed by officials of all the state's race tracks except Ocean Downs, the harness track at Ocean City.

Tawes issued a statement saying his office did not ask that the legislation be introduced and noting that it received only 22 opposing votes in the House and seven in the Senate.

"I believe that as governor I should proceed with extreme caution before substituting my judgment for the will of the General Assembly on a matter of legislative policy," he said.

The governor used his strongest language on a piece of legislation yet in vetoing the bill to establish and enforce minimum liquor prices in all of Maryland except five counties exempted from the bill.

"Totally Foreign"

He had been advised by the attorney general that it was probably unconstitutional since it did not apply statewide, but Tawes said his reasons went far beyond that. He said it would be "totally foreign to our traditions here in Maryland" by eliminating price competition and hinted it attempted to circumvent a federal court ruling.

"I do not believe that I can close my eyes to the fact that certain of the principal manufacturers of alcoholic beverages and certain Maryland wholesalers of such beverages have recently been found guilty by the Maryland federal court of violating the Sherman Anti-trust Act, because of a broad-based conspiracy to fix and maintain the price of liquor within the State of Maryland by misuse of fair trade contracts and other means," Tawes said.

Other Bills Signed

Other bills signed by the governor included measures making it unlawful to show an obscene movie to minors under 18, requiring fire drills in all public schools at least once every 60 days during the school year, creating a development credit corporation for the

Oakland Dentist Describes Successful Jaw Treatment

BALTIMORE (AP) — An Oakland, Md. dentist told the Maryland State Dental Assn. Tuesday he has had considerable success in treating dislocation of the jaw.

Dr. Alvin P. Friend said he used an injection of sodium psylliate to shrink the jaw joint. Alcohol injections have been used in the past, he said.

Dr. Friend said people who throw their jaws out of place while talking, eating or yawning are usually suffering from subluxation, which he described as a self-reducing, incomplete dislocation.

Both subluxation and complete dislocation, or luxation, results in acute pain in the joint and obscure facial pain from ear to forehead.

Dr. Friend said that after giving the injection he advises his patients to remain on a soft diet for several weeks. He said talking or singing should be avoided until the dislocation is corrected.

Earlier, two Cincinnati dentists told the delegates that infection of the gum tissue is the most common disease of persons over 21.

Dr. Don M. Ball and Dr. Edward L. Ball Jr. said that the infection, known as peridontal disease, actually causes the loss of 80 per cent of all teeth lost by persons over 35.

They urged greater public education on the importance of mouth health, especially for adults, and on the need for regular and thorough dental examinations.

North-South Skirmish Unit Seeks Quarters

C Of C To Offer Full Cooperation

Civil War muskets may once again be heard in the hills of Western Maryland.

They would sound off loud and clear many times a year if the North - South Skirmish Association, which is seeking a permanent home rifle range, were to locate near this Western Maryland industrial and cultural center.

The association has more than 1,000 members of some 50 teams located in 12 Eastern states. They gather periodically for "skirmishes" — rifle matches in which members fire authentic Civil War period rifle muskets in uniform and with all accouterments and colorful paraphernalia.

Will Hold Skirmish

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce plans to send a representative to Fort Lee, Va., this weekend to witness a National Skirmish and to get full details.

J. W. Waters, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, commander, wrote the Chamber of Commerce the association has been meeting on military bases but that its growth and spectator appeal cannot be satisfied much longer under this arrangement.

He said the association would like to locate near its geographical center, which would be in Western Maryland, western Virginia or southern Pennsylvania.

The region about Cumberland, he added, is beautiful and historic "making it desirable from our viewpoint."

He said the organization wants to be located near a city because of its convenience in handling both members and tourists who will be attracted to the events.

Will Cooperate

Mr. Waters said it might be possible to find acreage in a rather mountainous area that includes a level area of perhaps 600 by 200 yards.

The association holds spring and fall national skirmishes and a number of regional skirmishes.

Activities during the Centennial years of the Civil War, Mr. Waters said, should build up a traditional spectacle which should attract many thousands of people each year.

Robert C. Petersen, manager, said the Chamber of Commerce will offer full cooperation to the association.

Fire Destroys Garage Here

Two local fire companies yesterday evening battled a blaze which destroyed a one-car garage in the rear of 720-722 Frederick Street.

The side of a nearby home occupied by Donald Hoff was blistered by the heat of the fire which occurred about 6:22 p. m.

East Side received the first call, and minutes later radioed to Central fire station for assistance. The cause of the fire is unknown, firemen said.

Local firemen had a number of other calls during the afternoon. South End firemen quenched a grass fire at Sheridan Place after receiving a call at 2:03 p. m.

Firemen from Central station received a call at 12:47 p. m. and extinguished a flue fire at 216 Charles Street.

A few minutes earlier East Side firemen were called to Williams Street where a grass fire was burning. It was out of the city limits. Local firemen stood by until volunteers from District 16 arrived to put out the remaining fire. About three acres of land were scorched and the fire was eating its way toward a number of homes in that area.

Trash Collection Is Heaviest In City's History

The Street Department will formally end its annual Cleanup Drive today on the West Side but it will take all week to collect all of the trash being placed on curbs throughout the city.

Andrew Heller, street superintendent, said 14 city trucks had collected 99 loads by 3:30 p. m. yesterday but were still running behind schedule.

He said the collections this year are the heaviest ever and will result in a better looking city.

Mr. Heller said people of the city have cooperated fully in the campaign, and he pledged that all of the debris will be picked up this week.

Firemen Cancel Weekly Dances

The fire house hop, held regularly for young people at Bedford Road Volunteer fire hall, has been cancelled until the third week in June, according to Willes Wilson, fire company president.

Mr. Wilson said the weekly record hop has provided wholesome entertainment for a large number of area high school students, but with so much school activity planned this time of the year, the firemen have decided to cancel the activity until after graduations are over.
